Nomen on the Go

A little boy who sits listlessly in his classroom instead of doing his school work is of special interest to Far mington's Julie Hovanesian these days. He's one of many youngsters she has helped test in the University of Detroit's Children's Psychologiansitic Center, where she does volunteer work as she trains to be a school psychologist. Mrs. Hovanesian, working toward a second master's degree at U.D inter 21 years as a teacher at just about every grade level, is finding this aspect of work with children increasing in fascination with the control of the property of the property of the property of the property volunteer service in the field of school psychology-before being state approved to work in that area.

HER VOLUNTEER time is divided between Southfield schools and the Children's Psychodiagnostic Center-and she thinks more parents should know more about this agency located at 16185 Petoskey in Detroit.
