A MISSOURIAN CONUNDRUM

Each Takes Daughter of the Other as His Wife and Arrival of Babies Mixes It More.

Boilaster, Mo.—When Joe Walling married Joe Rouchard's daughter 34 years ago and Joe Rouchard married Joe Walling's daughter, and Joe No. 1 became the son-in-law and after-in-law of Joe No. 2, and Joe No. 2 assumed the same relationship to Joe No. 1, they did not know that in time they would create a problem in relationship that would be a conundrum to the citizens of that part of Taney County, Mo., and the north part of Boone County, Ark., that bordered on the White River along the State line.

Between the fathers the loss of their wives, their respective virtues and their ability as helpmates was a favorite topic of conversation and cemented a strong bond of friendship and sympathy between them. On hot days Joe No. 1 would linger at the end of a row while plowing until Joe No. 2 would finish his row and pull his team to a halt near by.
