BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY ON THE PRODIGAL SON. Luke 15:11-32

THE setting of the parable of the Prodigal Son demonstrates the Master's object in giving it. He was seeking to show the Pharisees that their position respecting publicans and sinners was wrong. He here pointed out that this wrong attitude was likely to cost them their own share in the Kingdom. In the parable the father evidently represents God; and the sons represent the two general classes into which the Jewish nation had divided itself. The elder son class were those who sat in Moses' seat, professed loyalty to God, and outwardly endeavored to keep His Law. The younger son class were those who had abused their privileges as beneficiaries of the Divine promises and wasted their opportunities in self-gratification.

This class of publicans and sinners felt their degradation, and longed to return to the Father's House. Spiritually ragged and hungry, they hesitated to go back. It was just such characters that Jesus especially encouraged to have confidence in the Father's will, in order to receive those who came to Him penitently. The parable tells that some of this class returned to God, and because of their penitence were granted special manifestations of Divine favor.

Application of the Parable. How grandly this parable illustrates the lengths, breadths, heights and depths of the Love of God! The robe, shoes, etc., well represent God's provision through Christ for covering the imperfections of all who return to Him. The feast and the merry-making well illustrate God's blessed promises, applicable to those accepted into God's family through the begetting of the Holy Spirit. This is the Marriage Feast of another parable. The elder brother was indeed bidden to the feast; but he was angry and refused to come, because that the father should reward the young spendthrift. The elder brother class did not show the right spirit for those for whom the Kingdom privileges were intended, all of whom must be weak, sinful, fallen, copies of God's dear Son in their generous good will toward all desirous of coming to the Father.

The Principle Applies Broadly. While this parable illustrated the two classes of Jews, the principle set forth applies generally. In the world there are noble characters, well-born and apparently the very ones to be chosen of God to be joint-heirs with His Son in the Kingdom. Nevertheless, the Scriptures make clear that not many such will be of the Kingdom class. (1 Corinthians 13:23) This better class, represented by the elder brother, seem to feel that in contrast with the lower strata they are perfectionists; and that God would surely desire them. But all are sinners, whether they know it or not; and all should be honest enough to confess the fact. God requires this very honesty, this confession of our need, before Christ's merits can be imputed to us, covering our blemishes. God evidently wishes to have a class honest enough to acknowledge their own imperfections and unworthiness of His favors. Those who so confess He will bless with a knowledge of themselves and of His righteousness; whereas others, self-satisfied and unwilling to accept His grace in Christ or to confess their need of a covering for their blemishes, are not humble enough to be of the Kingdom class.

Not Many Rich, Noble or Wise. Thus it comes that the majority of those who accept God's favor and become His children are from the younger brother class—not many rich, noble, learned or wise, but chiefly the poor of this world.

The Jealous Brother.

Perhaps no other parable has been so helpful to the poor and needy, the sinful and weak, who desire to return to the family of God. In this parable they see their own picture, and are encouraged. The Heavenly Father's character has been so misrepresented to them by the creeds of the Dark Ages that they fear Him and expect no kind reception from Him. As the proper thought of God's character reaches the poor and the dejected, they receive a suggestion of hope which assists many of them to a full return and surrender to the God of all grace. The Prodigal's declaration, "I will go to my father," represents what should be the attitude of all repentant ones—reliance upon the Heavenly Father's provision in Christ for forgiveness and their response to His love and care for their return to the fold and to harmony with God.

Carl Ely and Clarence Bicking were seen carrying vast quantities of water the other day, and we of course presumed that the big gasoline tank was going to receive a little fresh lubrication. As a matter of fact, however, the water was carried so that Clarence and Bill could construct a lake out in the back yard to try their new boat, which now cuts the waters of Walled Lake. Gasoline sales are increasing daily, which proves the boat story.

Thos. H. McGee has announced a special bargain day at the post office for the second Wednesday of every third week. He thus hopes to increase the sale of the little square stickers and secure a big raise in salary. On that day he will sell 17 1/2 two-cent stamps for a quarter, with a box of Nyal's bald head remover thrown in. Special clerks will be on hand, and a dozen more salesladies wanted. The big sale is in full charge of Harrison Johnson.

Mr. J. L. Hogle is taking a vacation, and by the way an earned one. During his absence his son Carl, who lives over at Northville in the daytime raising little fishes, has been appointed head of the dairy department and certainly has his hands full, and to hear him tell it, will probably have to lease the Harger truck to take care of the milk. Carl abstracts the milk from THE cow, and being an experienced dairyman, gets up at 4:15 each morning, thus giving him time to catch the 6:30 car. He usually gets through in plenty of time, too, although his experience is limited. He also has a standing order with the leg doctor in case the cow becomes frisky.

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste, make Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

If the first box fails to benefit, the price is returned. Ask your druggist. A box of 25 doses costs only 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.
