The war cloud continues to get darker over in Europe. Let's hope that things will right themselves in the near future.

Mexican affairs and the base ball scores have to be content with the inside pages of the big papers these days. War news eclipses everything.

Over at Farmington the council have not published a financial report in the past two years. About time for a grand jury investigation. Oxford Leader.

Now that Farmington has adopted a new ordinance for the children, why not one to get the old man home before twelve?—Oxford Leader. Why not make it eleven?

If American merchants exhort to raise the price of foodstuffs, Congress should take some steps toward preventing it. The sin of the father should not be made to work out in this instance.

One thing that the United States should be thankful for is that Andrew Wilson is at the head of things in this country right now instead of the terrible and fighting Andy. This is certainly no time for this stick.

Some never know what Michigan means, and especially those in Oakland County really think of this state as how they prize them. It is so hard to find one that is not at any time.

Of course I didn't mean in my column the publication of the statement that it would cost $250 to publish it. I merely meant that the one year statement of $250. The one now due is for two years, and I have no means of knowing what matter it contains.

Now that members of the county have voiced an opinion of what they are willing to do in regard to the publication of a statement, The Enterprise feels that its duty has been done in regard to the matter. It is up to the taxpayers—if they want a report, it is an easy matter to publish for one. I hope that it is passed around but I feel that my duty has ended in the matter.

Battle ships actually hurt these light bays far out on the water—using specially constructed apparatus to light up automatically the instant they fall. They give an intense white light that would show up any craft attempting to enter the circle. These marine lights are similar to the 2,000 candle power Acetylene lights used by fire chiefs in the big cities. Both kinds generate identically the same Acetylene used so extensively for lighting and cooking in country houses.

The Bully and Reason.

The bully depends on main strength. A bullying nation is as disgusting as a bullying man. A strong man, morally and physically, relies on his sense of justice, a strong nation has "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind," and will be as sensitive of his honor in keeping it, as a man, as an upright man in his dealings with others. The bully will not reason.

The Difference.

Billy (who is putting in a long Sunday afternoon)—"Let's play auto with the chairs, mummy, and you take a ride with me." Mother (with an eye to the utility)—"I guess not, dear; I really don't approve of pleasure rides on Sunday." Billy (after a moment of earnest thought)—"But this isn't a pleasure ride. We'll play I'm taking you to see a moving picture show of scenes from the Bible."—Life.

Dainty Pest of the Wild.

No animal is more dainty or more luxurious in its habits than the weasel. It steals the freshest eggs, selects the tenderest chickens of the brood and will sometimes kill several for a single meal, sucking the warm blood and eating only a small bit of the flesh.

After All.

Most of the things that people think are matters of great moment aren't.

FREDERICK C. MARTINDALE

As promised in our last, here is a summary of reasons given by over 250 of Michigan's leading citizens from the various walks of life for supporting Mr. Martindale for Governor. All gave several reasons. Some of the reasons were given by nearly everyone of the 250. The opinion quoted is the language of some one person, it being differently phrased by other.

- "Because he stands for all that is good in public and private life."
- "Because from his record in positions of trust we would be assured of an honest, straight-forward, economical, business administration."
- "He neither stampedes nor effervesces, but is always right."
- "He is a man of deeds rather than words; he keeps every promise."
- "I consider him a square-head, honest man and one who will give everybody a square deal."
- "Because with him as Governor every man, woman and child, and every interest and industry would be guaranteed a square deal. All men rich or poor, with or without political influence, look alike to him and receive the same treatment at his hands."
- "Because he is a vote-getter and his nomination would mean a united party and guarantee a Republican victory, not only for the entire State ticket, but for the Congressional, Legislative and County ticket as well."
- "He is progressive yet conservative; progressive, insofar that he advocates and works for every measure that is for the good of the common people, conservative, insofar that he believes in protection to every human and property right."
- "Having been associated with him in the Legislature, I know him to be right on public issues and well qualified for the position of Governor."
- "His record is one of service and he has proven faithful to every trust and thereby endeared himself to the common people."
- "Of all the candidates, Mr. Martindale is best fitted by experience, training and temperament to be Governor of a great State like ours."

In the election of 1910 Mr. Martindale, running on the same ticket, had 45,000 more votes than Osborn, and in 1912, 55,000 more than Musselman and 40,000 more than our popular Lieutenant Governor Ross.
