

NEAR FAMOUS OLD BATTLEFIELD OF WATERLOO BLOODY BATTLE MAY SOON BE FOUGHT

Where the battle of Waterloo was fought.

The Lion of Waterloo on its 200-foot mound is in the center of the famous battleground about ten miles outside the city of Brussels, Belgium. On this famous battlefield, which in 1815 54,000 men lost their lives and Napoleon went down to defeat, the allied forces of Europe may soon be engaged in the decisive battle which will terminate the war of 1914.

RETURN TICKET SAVES BRIDEGROOM FROM ARMY

Charles Ford, Battle Creek Banker, Nearly Has to Fight for England. Battle Creek, Mich.—It pays to buy a return ticket when you are on your honeymoon—especially if you are Canadian and go to your native land with your bride, according to Charles Ford, local banker, who went to visit his parents in Ontario on his wedding trip. England had ordered all Canadians detained for military duty and when Mr. and Mrs. Ford, the latter formerly Miss Mary Gunning, attempted to re-enter the United States the officials wanted to detain the groom. Only by producing the return ticket and proving that the young man had lived in this country eight years was he able to get by.

POINT EDWARD WIRELESS STATION UNDER GUARD

Sarnia City Council Offers obsequies to volunteers for European Service. Port Huron, Mich.—The wireless station at Point Edward is under guard as a result of the attempt made on the station at Port Arthur, Ont. A sergeant and six men of the Twenty-seventh regiment are on duty day and night. The city council of Sarnia will give each of the volunteers who leave for the front a $15 gold piece. It is expected that the soldiers will leave the Canadian city across the border and arrangements have been made to give them a public demonstration. The Windsor ambulance corps came to Sarnia to entrain with the local ambulance corps.

Seizing a Trade Opportunity

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: What are the mercantile and manufacturing interests of America doing to avail themselves of the amazing opportunities for foreign trade suddenly opened to them in consequence of the great war? To move quickly and effectively for grasping this trade through such wise policies as will insure its permanent retention is not taking unfair advantage of our great rivals in finance and commerce. While a great part of the people of those rival countries are engaged in the struggle to win the war, the manufacture of materials for carrying on the fighting, wants of the world's peoples who are at peace must be supplied. South American diplomats and business men are appealing to our dealers and exporters and industrial leaders to furnish them with useful things, for which they can no longer look to Europe. The trade of their continent with the nations whose productive capacity has now undergone almost complete paralysis amounted last year to $1,600,000,000. For the things that they have to sell, the closing of the continent has been a disaster. Many of the things that they have to sell are in great demand here. With vigorous initiative on our part these percentages can be reversed. Asia's 825,000,000 of people, in nearly 17,000,000 square miles of territory, will continue to have needs irrespective of Europe's ability to meet them. So will the islands of the Pacific. So will the settled area of Africa. The war has destroyed trade conditions and the trade relations to which the world had adjusted itself for a hundred years. The necessity for an entire readjustment creates the chance to transfer world commercial supremacy in carrying degrees from London, from Liverpool, from Antwerp, from Hamburg, from Marseilles, from Odessa, to New York, to Boston, to St. Louis, to Philadelphia, to Galveston, to Mobile, to New Orleans, to San Francisco. This chance to pass without the most energetic and intelligent and resourceful effort on our part, to utilize it?

7,474,000 Men Answer First Call; 32,541,000 Men Can Be Put in Field

Russia has ordered a complete mobilization of her entire army in European Russia. Germany has ordered a complete mobilization of her forces, naval and military. France has called to the colors every available reserve. Austria already has her complete strength in the field. Serbia has called out every able-bodied man in the army. England has practically cut off communication with the rest of the world. Her fleet is mobilized and cleared for action and it is believed that the reserves have been summoned to the colors. Italy, though an ally of Austria and Germany, is "on the fence" and may even throw her strength to England, France and Russia. According to the latest authentic figures at the United States War Department's intelligence office in Washington, the strength of the seven nations in preliminary stages of mobilization will be:

COUNTRY	Men	Ships
Russia	1,850,000	162
Germany	1,850,000	242
Austria	820,000	78
Serbia	361,000	12
England	693,000	346
France	1,200,000	114
Italy	600,000	114
Totals	7,474,000	1,355,000

This would be the first mobilization. All the nations except England could then call upon an immense trained reserve. The first clash, however, would call 7,474,000 men to the colors.

When the elder reserves are called the strength of the nations involved would be:

COUNTRY	Peace strength	Reserves	War strength	For war strength unorganized
Germany	420,000	3,200,000	5,200,000	1,000,000
Russia	870,000	3,300,000	5,500,000	5,200,000
Austria	720,000	3,250,000	4,000,000	1,000,000
France	320,000	1,610,000	2,000,000	3,000,000
Serbia	32,000	329,000	361,000	150,000
England	254,500	476,500	730,000	2,000,000
Italy	250,000	950,000	1,200,000	1,300,000
Totals	3,806,000	14,374,000	18,091,000	13,550,000

Taking the armed strength of the seven nations—trained and untrained men, between the ages of 16 and 55, able to bear arms—the stupendous total of 32,541,000 men could be engaged in the forthcoming war.
