"Who Pays The Freight?"

A farmer living not far from this village, and he's a very good farmer, and a very good citizen, unknowingly to himself, called my attention to a very good advertising argument the other day, and one to which I wish to call the attention of several enterprising business men of Farmington, who would rather believe that "advertising doesn't pay" than to try it. This particular farmer saw an advertisement in a Detroit paper that sugar was so much per pound. He naturally presumed that as the dealer made an especial announcement of the price of sugar that it must be at a lower price, and when he drove back from the city a couple of days later, he brought with him a big sack of sugar. He told me the price, and I later made a few inquiries and found that he could have saved money by buying right here at home.

Local grocery men, or for that matter storekeepers generally, can furnish supplies just as cheap as they can be obtained in the city or any place else, but so long as they keep that information locked up in their stores, and thereby save a few dollars a year in advertising bills, while their competitors elsewhere quote their prices, and invite the customer to their stores, they may expect a goodly portion of the patronage that should be theirs, to go out of town, just as it is doing right here in Farmington today.

News Item—The Enterprise is printing tax receipts for the Township Treasurer this week. Merry Christmas.

And we'll soon rediscover the fact that there are no two thermometers within the village that will register exactly the same.

Our own personal definition of Sherman's definition of war is a well developed case of indigestion along about Thanksgiving dinner-time.

The fellow who said "the pen is mightier than the sword" must have lived in an age when a leaking non-working fountain pen was an unknown quantity.

The fellow who is in the habit of commenting on the c and the rural carriers have, didn't have anything to say last Tuesday morning when he wrapped his long legs around the stove in his usual loafing place.

The entire country cannot but regret that the affairs of Villa and Carranza in Mexico have taken such an unfortunate turn, and as a result has put the President Wilson and his cabinet in a more or less embarrassing position. No one, be he Republican or Democrat, can doubt the sincerity of the President's watchful waiting policy, nor can they doubt that it was carried out, to prevent this country from being involved or dragged into a war, in the interest of a cause entirely foreign to this country. With the reports streaming into this country of war events in Europe, thoughts of war are decidedly repulsive to American citizens, and it would be better even to pocket a little of our pride just at the present time than to become involved in a conflict, that could not but cost us the lives of many American citizens. Let every good citizen stand by the President.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for Croup

Croup scares you. The loud hoarse croupy cough, choking and gasping for breath, labored breathing, call for immediate relief. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will master the croup. It cuts the thick mucus, clears away the phlegm and opens up and eases the air passages.

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Rosa Bonner, 825 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I have been suffering with nervous prostration for nine or ten years. Have tried many of the best doctors in Birmingham, but they all failed to reach my case. I would feel as if I was smothering. Finally I went into convulsions. My little girl saw Dr. Miles' Nerve advertised in the papers and I at once began to take it. I continued to take it for some time and now I am well."

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep, if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but it is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nerve has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you. Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned.

Light Your House and Barns—Cook Your Meals
With Home-Made Acetylene

And Make Your Acetylene With a Pilot Lighting Plant

Pilot plants make Acetylene automatically a little at a time as you use it in your gas cooking stove and in your lights distributed throughout your house, your barns and out-buildings. You simply fill the generator with the gas-producing stone "Union Carbide" and water about once a month.

Pilot plants are approved by The National Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters.

All told, over 250,000 country homes are using Acetylene made the Pilot way.

A complete Pilot plant, consisting of generator, pipes—hand-some light fixtures and gas cook stove, can be installed in any country home in a couple of days' time.

Such a plant is a permanent improvement and will furnish you with the cheapest, safest and most practical light and fuel now available for country home requirements.
