THOUGHT of love immortal blends
With dear remembrances of friends,
And in these earth born flowers,
With Eden's lingering fragrance sweet,
The heavenly and the human meet,
The heart of Christ and ours.

LOST SUBMARINE HAS BEEN LOCATED

DIVER ESTABLISHES WORLD RECORD IN SEARCHING TRIP TO BOTTOM.

NO LONGER HOPE FOR CREW

Submerged Vessel of U. S. Hawaiian Division Lies Just Outside of the Harbor of Honolulu.

Honolulu—The submerged submarine F-4 has been located outside the harbor. It was announced Sunday night. Portions of the superstructure have been brought to the surface. All hope of finding any of her crew alive was abandoned Saturday.

The positive statement was made here by Naval Constructor Julius A. Furer that the four submarines of the Hawaiian division were examined as to their stability only a month ago. He said that all were found in good condition.

Earlier in the day there was bitter disappointment for the searchers when it was found by divers that what was supposed to have been the F-4, caught by grappling from Saturday, was merely the anchor of a warship, supposed to be one lost by the Oregon.

Divers Agaz and Evans went down the two cables thought to have been attached to the submarine. Agaz, who went down the cable attached to the anchor, wore only a helmet. Diver Evans, who descended along the second cable, reported that he found nothing at the bottom.

BANKER SHOT BY BANDIT

JOSEPH G. LORKOWSKI, MANAGER AND CASHIER, NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE.

ROBBER CLUBBED BY CASHIER

Adam Janiczewski, the Assassin, Said He Was Starving. Was Knocked Unconscious By Noj.

While the full flow of the business life of the Polish community in the vicinity of Chene street and McBurny avenue swept by unawares, a drama was enacted Monday afternoon in the branch of the Federal State bank at that corner, the manager and cashier, Joseph G. Lorkowski, of 1398 Chene street, being shot down by a bandit, who a few moments later was knocked unconscious and captured by Leonard Noj, the assistant cashier.

"I was starving," was the explanation given by the robber, Adam Janiczewski, 21 years old, to the police at Grace hospital as doctors worked over his wounded head, closing up wounds inflicted by Noj with the bandit's own gun. "I had to have the money and that was the only way I could see to get it."

A few feet away, in an adjoining room of the hospital, Lorkowski lay on an operating table, while surgeons probed for a bullet from the bandit's revolver which had pierced the stomach and intestines. Lorkowski, the physicians say, has only a slight chance to recover.

Later, when the prisoner was brought before Lorkowski in the hospital for identification, the wounded bank manager said, "I forgive you freely, for I know I am going to die."

SUCCESSFUL O. E. S. BALL.

The O. E. S. society was host to about one hundred couple at their informal dancing party given last Friday evening at Odd Fellow hall, and from the enthusiastic reports that we have heard since that time, every one of them enjoyed the event to the utmost.

Every arrangement attending the pleasure of the guests had been arranged by the several committees. Turner's orchestra furnished the music, and a supper served during the evening.

Bazaar and Supper April 5

The Young People and Ladies Aid of the German Evangelical church will give a bazaar and supper in the Odd Fellow Hall, Monday afternoon and evening, April 5th.

At the bazaar will be shown many pretty pieces of hand work at reasonable prices. At the same time a comforter will be raffled, and also a hand painted creamer and sugar. A hot supper will be served at 5:00 o'clock.

Everybody welcome. Come and enjoy yourselves. The proceeds will be used for the redecoration of the interior of the church.

Remember the date, April 5, afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Sam Turner wishes to thank the Farmington Guild for the beautiful flowers sent to her during her recent illness.

TWO TICKETS AT NOVI.

The republican and democratic caucuses were held Friday of last week, and two complete tickets placed in the field for township offices to be voted upon next Monday.

No little interest is being manifested, and the usual friendly rivalry exists between the two sets of candidates.

Following is the list of nominees: Democratic—Supervisor, Frank C. Rice; clerk, Eugene Verduyn; treasurer, Albert Shirliff; justice of peace, Andrew J. Bennett; commissioner of highways, Burton Leavenworth; overseer of highways, Frank Dodge; member board of review, Elmer D. West; constable, Albert Shirliff; constable, William Hicks; constable, Judson Hammond; constable, Albert Hicks.

Republican—Supervisor, Harry M. Bogart; clerk, Fred W. Durtis; treasurer, George Newbound; justice of peace, George H. Taylor; commissioner of highways, Fred Congdon; overseer of highways, Lester Woodruff; member board of review, George Erwin; constables, George Newbound, Edward Seely, Low K. Bullen and LaVern Johnson.

Five Things Local Option Will Do For Farmington

- It will close one hotel.
- It will increase your individual taxes.
- It will probably make a whiskey drinker out of your husband, father or brother if he now drinks beer.
- It will imperil the safety, associations, and even honor of your wife, daughter or sister.
- It will cause farmers who now take a drink, and now come to Farmington, to seek other markets and other shopping and trading points.

On the Cars and on the Street

Your wife, sister or daughter is safe and free from insult and kindred evils. Was she in 1908-1909?—dry years. Will it be the same thing if it goes dry again?

Is the Traveler to be Considered?

Hasn't he the right to hotel accommodations such as he can secure in other towns? Will he get them if it goes dry? Not at one Farmington hotel at least—it will be closed.

Compare 1908-9 to 1914-15

Aren't conditions better now—the farmer, the worker, yourself and your friend better off today than six and seven years ago. Has your property increased in value, despite the fact that it is now and has been since 1909 WET?

What About Your Boy

Can he buy a drink in Farmington? Not if he is under age. Do you not remember of seeing and hearing of different conditions during the dry period?

What About Arrests

During the last five (wet) years there has not been a single arrest for drunkenness in Farmington. Can you say the same for 1908-1909? Have you found a drunken man in possession of your porch during the last five years? Did you ever have or hear of one in 1908-1909?

And How About Taxes

Taking as examples, the years 1912 (wet) against 1909 (dry)—and you are welcome to compare other years. For the year 1909 the Owen House was assessed at a valuation of $4,500, and paid taxes amounting to $78.87—that's when it was dry. In 1912 the valuation had been raised to $7,500, and taxes were paid totaling $188.36. Both figures include Village and Township taxes. That is a difference of $109.49 more being paid in taxes during a wet period than during a dry. In addition the bar in the hotel pays into the village, county and township treasuries a total of $750.00. $497.50 is left within the Township.

That is the situation summed up. Can you afford to turn to those two brief, but bitter years of 1908-1909? We don't believe you can or will, and when the ballots of Farmington's 525 voters are counted next Monday evening, we believe that a substantial majority of them will have been marked
