The house was crowded, every seat, which were reserved for this opening night, being taken. All who witnessed the production were well pleased, and expressions of commendation were to be heard on all sides.

There will be a performance each night for the remainder of this week, the admission price being the usual one of 10 cents. Next Wednesday evening "The Lion and the Mouse" will be shown, and on Wednesday night of the week following "The Third Degree" will be the attraction.

Manager Thompson has planned to make Wednesday night of each week feature night, and something especially good will be presented on those nights. He also contemplates giving a benefit performance for the band now being organized, in the near future.

Working Under Difficulties.

For fourteen years I have not had a day's real health. I have wakened sick and gone to bed weary, and I have done my work unflinchingly. And the battle goes on—ill or well, is a trifle, so as it goes. I was made for a contest and the powers have so willed that my battlefield should be this dingy and inglorious one of bed and the physic bottle.—Robert Louis Stevenson.
