VOL. XXIX, No 30

FARMINGTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1915

The home of Mrs. Elizabeth Holcomb was a scene of pleasant activity on Wednesday afternoon the Ladies Literary Club ce ebrated their Sixteenth Annual President's Day.

The parlor was transformed into a stage, and after a vocal solo by Miss Kennedy, a very amusing play, "How the Story Grew", a comedy in one act with five scenes, with the following cast of characters, was given:

Mrs. Brown Inda Hambleton Mrs. Green Josepine McGee Mrs. Beau Mary Johnson
Mrs. Rice Anna Cook Mrs. Doolittle Lulu Pauline Mrs. Snow Jennie Melow Mrs. Taylor Bertha Steele Mrs. White Zayda Wilber
Pianist Minnie Wilber

Mrs. Johnson presided at the ments were served by the banquet committee, after which Mrs. Pierce, the toastmistress, in her usua pleasing manner, presented the following toasts:

"The Day We Celebrate", by Mrs. Steele, was a most fitting Mrs. Steele, was a most fitting tribute to our Annual Day. "To Our Honorary Guests and the Piopeers of Our Club", by Mrs. Chamberliu. "The Home Coming", by Mrs. Turner of North ville, who nearly eighteen years ago first called the ladies together at her home for the purpose of or-ganizing a womans' club, and so became responsible for our exist-

By order of Commander and Adjutant.

Celebrates 78th Birthday

A very pleasant birthday party was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. McGee this week, in honor of the 68th birth day of Mr. McGee's mother, Mrs. Abigail McGee, whose birthday

Two sons and two daughter Thos. H., and Clinton of Pontiac, and Mrs. C. M. Doherty and Mrs. Margaret Truscott of this place helped in the celebration, and con-gratulations and remembrances were received from three other sons, Clyde of Chicago, James of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and George of Cadillac, as well as from many of her grandchildren. Mrs. M. S. of Pontiac was also a guest

Mrs. McGee, though now in her 79th year, is in excellent health, and was able to enjoy the day to the utmost. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Rob Clarenceville Store

The store of G. M. Nacker at Clarenceville was broken into during daylight hours, at some time last Sunday afternoon; entrance being gained through a back cellar window

The thief or thieves secured very little for their trouble, however out did find a small purse contain. ing some small change, amounting to not more than $5.00, according to Mr. Nacker.

Both the proprietor and his wife

ere away from home at the time, visiting with relatives in Farm

No clue has been found that would tend to lead to the identity of the robbers.

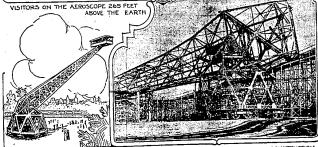

Pleasing Play Rendered

Last evening at the town, a class of young ladies from Detroit, members of a class of the Scovel church of that city rendered a very pleasing play entitled"Breezy Point" in three acts and three scenes.

The play was ably presented and an altogether enjoyable enter taiment, seventeen young ladies being numbered in the cast.

THE WONDERFUL AEROSCOPE, HIGHER THAN THE FERRIS WHEEL, GIVES VISITORS MARVELOUS VIEW OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION 1ST APPEARANCE

For the seeker of amusement there is opportunity a-plenty in the unique mechanical achievement, the Aeroe, on "The Zone," at the Paname-Pacific International Exposition. The Aeroscope resembles a giant crane of twel and intricate design, its steed construction recalling that of the Baseuber bridge. At the extremity of the

New Schedule for Cars

The new running schedule for passenger cars on the D. U. R. is now in full effect, and patrons out this way are already more or less ccustomed to the new hours.

Cars running both ways are merely running twenty minutes later than heretofore. Those eastound which formerly arrived at 33 minutes after the hour now leave at 53 minutes after the hour.

Those for Northville, which for merly were scheduled for 8 minutes to the hour, now depart at 12 minutes after.

Cars for Farmington from Detroit which formerly left the waiting room at fifteen minutes to the hour, now depart from the station at five minutes after the hour And of course in addition there is the half hourly service to the junction.

The change went into effect Saturday morning, and continue over through Sunday. Monday morning the cars were running on the old schedule, but the new schedule was fixedly established again for the summer season Tues day morning.

Sheriff William Cowgill, of Williamsport, Indiana was a local visi.or Tuesday, in an effort to find some trace of the alleged forger, ing numbered in the cast.

Between the acts Miss Maud
Ogivie pleasingly rendered a solo, and was called for an encore. Miss Elizabeth Smith, also rendered two detectives. In some manner, Some excellent music on the Cello.

The play was given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, and a good crowd was in attendance of the Ladies and a good crowd was in attendance of the Ladies Aid Society, are now trying to locate both him and the missing money.

Will Participate in Decoration Day Parade—Making Excel-lent Progress.

The Farmington Silver Cornet Baud, organized but a few weeks ago, will make its initial public appearance on next Monday in the annual Decoration Day parade, when it will head the line of march to the :emetery.

That the organizers and the boys who are members have done more than well is already known to many, but the progress that has been made, and the class of music that will be produced next Monday will also be a surprise to ever those who have been keeping in touch with the new organization.

The band now has a membership of seventeen players, including the leader, Bert Gates. They are di vided into the following sections: Cornets, Bert Gates, Clyde Price, Forest Pierson, Richard Marsh, Bateman Wood, Chas. Sterman, and Herman Grimmer; Trombone, George Robinson; Tenor, Garner Groves; Altos, R. J. Auten, Chas. Gravelin, Leo Hendryx and Stan-ley Gates; Baritone, Andrew Sal-low; Tuba, J. Gates; Bass Drum, Heury Sallow; Snare Drum, Frank

Twice a week rehearsals are held regularly at the water works hall, nd much difficult music has already been mastered.

Farmington generally will look orward to the initial and subseuent public appearance of the and boys with much pleasure.
