RAINY WEATHER Damages Wheat

Heavy Rains of Past Few Days Will Cause Considerable Financial Loss

A considerable portion of the wheat crop in this locality has already been harvested, but that much of it still stands out in the field, water soaked is also an un-deniable fact, and farmers stand to lose considerable financially as result of the rains of past few days.

Some grain is being received at the local mill, but the amount so far purchased is small compared with other years, as less than a thousand bushels has thus far been bought by the mill, the price rang-ing from 96 cents to $1.00 per

It is feared that the grain stand ing out will be of value only for rough feed, as the second growth spoils the grain for flour purposes.

Wheat containing as high as 20 per cent of water has been offered at the mills in Pontiac, and re jected.

In commenting on the situation C. E. DePuy of Pontiac says: "We advise every farmer who consults us, against threshing the grain direct from the shock. We advise in favor of stacking all wheat for "The farmer is the man who will suffer if this course is not followed. Wheat that contains too much moisture must be carefully tended or it will ferment and become musty, which completely unfits it for milling purposes. The grain must be stored and shoveled Included in over frequently while it sweats, to prevent heating. Otherwise it be-comes practically a total loss,"

Heavy Rain Storms

The past week has witnessed the heaviest rain fall recorded in this section for several years past, about one and one half inches of moisture having fell here on last Tuesday

In Detroit, out Grand River, car service was demotalized for several hours Tuesday afternoon, nearly three feet of water standing in the street at the railway crossing, under the bridges at the Warren and Crosstown transfer point.

In the village cellars and base nents suffered, but no damage of

The rains of the past week have een the heaviest for a similar period in years, and are resulting in no little loss to farmers who have grain cut that has in any mise matured.

Change in Rural Routes

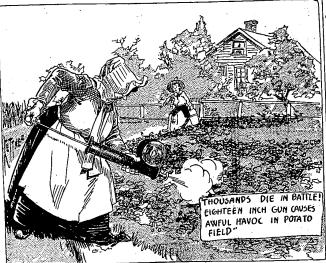

The change of rural routes went into effect Monday morning, and the threes carriers are now carry ing routes approximately five miles longer than heretofore. Some com plaint is being heard from the patrons formerly served form Novi, but it is beleived that this will be minimized when the patrons be-come more accustomed to the new With the added mileage two of the carriers finish their work between 12 and 1 o'clock, driving machines, and Carrier Sprague with a one horse wagon returns to he village about three o'clock.

Young Man Has Acute Attack

Asa, a son of Rudolph Kahrl, who lives about a mile south of the village, was taken suddenly last Saturday evening, with an attack of acute indigestion in its most serious, form, and for a few hours vas in a very precarious condition.

The young man, who plays with the local band, feeling rather badly had stopped at the Briggs confectionery, and ordered a fountain drink, which had just been served when seized with the attack. The old drink precipitated the attack, and in a moment he had doubled room of the confectionery and where the efforts of a half a dozen men were required to hold him, so

93 ACRE TRACT IS SUBDIVIDED

Old Lindlow Farm East of Vilage: Will Be Offered Home Bullders

What is known as the old Lin dow farm, comprising about 93 acres of ground on both sides of acres or ground on boil sales of Grand River avenue east of the village, just this side of the Junction has been plotted out in a bradd new subdivision, which is shortly o be formally opened to the public.

As planned, and mapped out, the subdivision is to be a model one and offers some very choice home sites, and to all appearances the demand for lots promises an early disposition of the greater portion of the tract, as many lots have been spoken for.

W. C. Malcomson of Detroit, drew up the plans, and will prob ably be in actual charge of the sale of lots, although several other parties are said to be interested.

The village council considered the matter at the regular meeting last Monday evening, postponing action until yesterday afternoon, when they visited the tract, and thoroughly went over the ground, to decide what changes will be necessary and best in the matter of changing the sewer outlet. No action was taken however at either neeting, and the matter has been laid over until next Monday evening. In the meantime, a prominent engineer of Lansing will visit the subdivision, and make a report and suggestions for the changing of the outlet.

Lots will be offered at varying prices, according to location, and according to report, several frontage lots have been spoken for by local people at in the neighborhood of $300 each.

Obituary
Georgia A. Burlison, born in Victor, N. Y., September 16th, 1839, was called July 30th, to that inheritance incorruptible that hath been reserved for her in Heaven.

She came to Michigan after the death of her father where for the past forty years she has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Jane

Aunt Georgia as she was know and called by all, thought little of her own comfort and much of the comfort of others. About a year ago she was attacked by Bright's disease, dropsy and heart trouble, being the usual form of suffering, and just eleven weeks from the day she took her bed; her sufferings were ended—always endured with such patience, yet she was ready and waiting when the messenger came.

The funeral services were held t the residence of Mrs. J. McManis, Sunday at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. D. Ward.

Mr. Forest Pierson and wife accompanied the remains to Victor, N. Y. to be interred beside those of her twin brother, also her mother

Aunt Georgia was always at home and her faithfulness and constant life of self forgetfulness, will leave a vacancy that can never he filled and her many loving acts will long be cherished in the hearts of all who knew her.
