

STRONG FLIGHTS OF GRATORY. of Mixed Metaphors Calcu-ed to Cause a Smile.

The village reporter on the death of the village poet: "That dauntless pen shall write no more, for its evas are closed forever!" From the speech of a rising young politican; "The flere light of public opinine shall dog their footsteps until it strangles them. Then shall they swallow the bitter pill and drink its very dregs."

in opinion shall cop their footsteps until its transfer show. Then shall they awaliow the bitter pill and drink its very creas."

Advice and warning from a nuccessful man of business to a gathering of young people. "Every rung in the ladder of success is payed with silippely stones, on which only the chear head and the steady hand can retain their footing!"

The ferriess aptragette was addressing a meeting on nere men. She bid graphically relat 1 to them, the fanch and the steady hand can retain their footing!"

The ferriess is presented in the steady and the hadde had and for that mets unferted had had for the mets priceless of post jesions, a fore-how every obstacle and been conquered and victory was it last in sight. "We have now," she shricked, "almost crossed the trackiess desert and the harbor lights are stretching out their arms to gheet us!"

The temperance advocate was giving a striking but a true picture of the vast amount of evil wrought, by the demon of drink. "What is the screat est devastating agent of our times" he said with the said with the state of the dame time it is stabbling you in the back!"
