

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother mistook as—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle.

Brilliant Headdress for Evening

A brilliant headdress, which may do duty as a dance cap, or for theater wear, is all made up of sparkle and midnight blackness. Bands of rhinestones, with black malines and narrow velvet ribbons, are the means by which the starry sky is translated into a bit of headwear for the brow of beauty. There is no getting away from the suggestion of the night sky which this fascinating cap sings into the mind.

One of the advantages of caps made like the one pictured above is that they soften the severity of the most popular of this season's coiffures. This coiffure leaves the brow uncovered and reserves its brilliancy for the hair about the ears. It is wonderfully youthful looking, which accounts, perhaps, for its flourishing in the face of the fact that its severity is often unbecoming. But a band of narrow velvet ribbon about the brows, or a small cap worn with it, recognizes the brow for the absence of softly curling hair.

There are several beautiful coiffures for those who cannot or will not wear the "Bobby." Among them the "Revermer" deserves its distinguished name. It is fascinating, simply on the

Preocious Youngster Asked Question Which Couldn't Be Answered—"Right Off the Bat."

When Auditor of State V.E. Donahy and six of his ten children had returned from Sunday school he impressed on their minds that of all the inhabitants of the earth, human, creeping and otherwise, all save those which had taken refuge on the Ark had perished in the flood. There was nothing living at all except what was on the Ark, he told the children. The waters had drowned out all life.

"Say, dad," inquired one of the youngsters who is especially precocious, "did the fishes fit the water die too?"

This was a poser for the auditor. He told the lad that he would answer the question later. Answering questions right off the bat is one of the accomplishments of the auditor, but the one the boy asked stumped him.—Columbus Dispatch.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mrs. A. L. Crawford, Medford, Mass., writes: "Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Bright's Disease, and I am healthy and strong today and have been blessed with good health ever since my cure. When the doctors pronounced my case Bright's Disease I was in a serious condition that they could do anything for me. I kept getting worse. My limbs from my ankles to my knees swelled and my eyes were so swollen that I couldn't see. As a last hope I thought I would give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. I gradually improved and kept on taking them until they cured me thoroughly."

Playing Safe.

Playing Safe.

It is in the high road collars for the street, fur and fur fabrics, velvet, novelty handings and cloth are used, with every detail carefully advised. Fine flaring collars are higher than the lobes of the ears, and the head sets in them like a flower in its calyx. It is a smart fashion to have for small hats to match the collar. Some of these high collars are cut away under the chin, forming wings at each side. Narrow fur banding and machine stitching are used for finishing them.

Collars for indoor wear are often opened at the front in a long, narrow "V." They often flare and are high at the sides and back. Organza and lace are used for making them, and they are elaborated with embroidery.

straight band supporting a flaring portion. The model with turnover tabs is a type of many varieties in this style.

A new arrival is a straight band of plaited organza terminating in a hemstitched ruffle at the top and bottom. The latest is a plaited cape of crepe which hangs in a point at the front, back, and over the shoulders. It is finished with a narrow border of chiffon and hemstitched to a straight band of crepe about the throat. Fine pointed tabs of chiffon form a turnover about the band. This is a harbinger of spring.

Modern Bags of Seal.

Full bags of plaid and are modish, embellished with gold or silver clasps and fancy knobs and filled up with the inevitable coin purses and vanity accessories. Square or melon shapes are the design. One's monogram in gold, silver or colored enamel in the form of a clasp to fasten the envelope-shaped bag is another idea favored.

The newest clasp has a knot of cut glass, ivory, jet, enamel, pearl, jade, amber, moonstones or other imitation stones. Some are set alone to reflect their own glory, while others have gold or silver filigree or cloisonne decorations. "Baché" is the stylish name for what we have known as patent leather, and is much fancied just at the minute for practical use.

A SYMPOSIUM OF SOUPS.

There is no dish that "touches the spot" like a hot, well-seasoned soup on a cold day or night. Many delicious vegetable soups are easily prepared and are both nourishing and appetizing.

Satisfy Soup.—Sprinkle 12 good-sized roots of oyster plant, let them stand in salted water, then slice and place in a granite sauceman with a quart of liquid, half milk and half water; cook until perfectly tender, remove from the fire and put through a sieve, reheat in a double boiler, adding gradually a pint of milk and a cupful of cream, stirred in when boiling hot. Season with buttermilk, pepper, salt and pinch of powdered macé.

Almond and Celery Soup.—Cut in fine pieces the whole of a bunch of celery, leaves and root. Add six pepper corns, a bay leaf, a tablespoonful of scraped onion or onion juice, a thin slice of lemon, a teaspoonful of salt, and a stick of cinnamon. Cover with a quart of water and cook one hour. Strain and reheat, stirring in a cupful of cream, a teaspoonful of flour and butter mixed to a cream, add a quarter of a cupful of blanched almonds that have been pounded to a paste; boil for two minutes after the nuts are added. Serve very hot with a spoonful of whipped cream sprinkled with a few finely shredded almonds. Serve with cheese crackers.

Artichoke Soup.—Take four medium-sized artichokes, wash them, boil until tender, remove the stalks, then chop very fine and add to some water in which cabbage has been boiled; add two grated carrots, a minced onion, a blade of mice, a tablespoonful of french vegetable cutter, a dash of pepper and celery salt. When ready to serve add a dash of tabasco sauce and a tablespoonful of butter.

A most nourishing soup may be made of dried peas, beans, lentils; soak them until soft, then cook in enough water to make a good puree after putting through a sieve, adding a slice of onion or celery for flavor and coloring. Fry three garlics, mix, soak them until soft, then cook in enough water to make a good puree after putting through a sieve, adding a slice of onion or celery for flavor and coloring. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JANUARY 9

THE COMING OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.

LESSON TEXT.—Acts 2:1-13.

COGNITION.—We know not that ye are a temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?—1 Cor. 3:16, R. V.

"Good teaching demands the use of the concrete; objective teaching is fundamental and essential." The incarnation is God's objective teaching, "God manifest" (a) to reveal himself, John 1:18; (b) to take away sin, John 3:5; (c) to destroy the works of the devil, John 8:12. So like Pentecost is a great objective lesson. This chapter has been divided as follows: (1) The Coming of Power (vv. 1-13); (2) The Empowered Witness (vv. 14-36); (3) A Powerful Result (vv. 37-47).

1. Power, 14. At the end of our last lesson the disciples were in prayer. The Lord's promise (1:5) was conditioned on obedience. At the "day" arrived (Lev. 23:15-21). Their hearts were fused and the fundamental requirement for service, the baptism of the spirit, came upon them. There has been no need since then to tarry any time at all to receive a like blessing. Lack of unity has much to do with our not receiving the spirit now and the consequent lack of power. Suddenly from out of heaven came a mighty sound (v. 2) and it is such a wind that the church needs today. There were three manifestations at this time and one other subsequently (vv. 2, 4, 3; 5, 4). (1) Wind. Let us keep clear the difference between symbol and spirit. The manifestation was "as wind." Wind is mysterious, universal and mighty, but like Elijah on the mountain God is not alone as a mighty tempest. The sound filled the whole house. Wind is a figure of judgment (Jer. 22:22; Hos. 13:15) of the Spirit (John 3:8). (2) Noise (Eph. 4:16). This last suggests the vagaries and imitations suggested or abetted by Satan to keep us from the truth. (2) Fire. This symbolizes power, light, heat and purifying, but the fire was not the spirit, nor do we recall another such manifestation (3) Tongues. The fire took the form of tongues which parted or portioned themselves out to "each one of them" though Peter is alone subsequently more prominent.

Every manifestation of the spirit is always that of some new power for Christ (1 Cor. 14:2-3). (4) Prophecy, vv. 2-3. The question may arise, had the spirit been seen before? and the answer is "yes" (Matt. 2:18, Jn. 1:32). What then was new? The answer to this is the progress of power. The first evidence of power was the gathering of the people (v. 6). The disciples at once testified of each of the sixteen classes mentioned (9-11) the mighty works of "God." Not of the gift, but the given, a different sort of testimony than that given by many who today profess to have the gift of tongues. The second result was that the people "were pricked" for them as now the world cannot understand the spirit-filled man. These spirit-filled men forget self and were lost in their testimony (v. 11).

It is of interest to note that they did not even say much if anything about the spirit himself. Their testimony, for which many later gave their lives, was that of a new and mighty work of the resurrection of Jesus from the dead (v. 24, 32).

The spirit-filled man is sure to emphasize this mighty work and the evidence of the spirit is a man's life in his loyalty to a crucified, risen and ascended Lord.

A third result was that people mis understood and charged drunkenness, a fact set out by Paul to teach us the truth (Eph. 5:18). The only sure cure for intemperance, or any other evil, is an infilling of the holy spirit, the full and complete fulfillment of the prophecy (v. 14-21, Joel 2:28, 29) of which Pentecost was a partial fulfillment in the "day of the Lord." But then, as now, all who call upon him shall be saved (v. 17, Rom. 10:13). "Some mocked," even at today's ridicule or parody are the enemy's choicest weapons. Pentecost is an event well attested, that marked the birth in of a new dispensation, that was misunderstood, but one that can be verified by experience.

Pentecost was a revelation, a manifestation of a new spiritual kingdom, distinctly Christian, that exposes sin and exalts the son.

Pentecost is a prophecy of real Christian unity, of a spiritual administration, of Christ's accession and an evidence of an abiding presence.

When we are spirit-filled the word Jesus Christ will occupy the whole horizon of our experience, our testimony and our content our service. The spirit-filled servant can exclaim "The Lord (Jesus) is my shepherd," he is Lord, he is my shepherd; he is, not has been or will be, but he is my shepherd.

The gift of the spirit must not be confused with the spirit's "filling" (1 Cor. 12) whereby we are enabled to do the work he directs in order to glorify the son—not the church, nor man, nor religious experience, but the Lord Jesus (Gal. 2:20, II Tim. 1:7).

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best today in day and out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headaches, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of Limestone phosphate from your druggist or at the store. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish taste which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks folk; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

Not Much Difference.

There had been several little shortages in the petty cash, and at last the partners in a certain firm set a trap for the pilferer.

It succeeded. The culprit was the office boy. The junior partner was so incensed that he wanted to call in the police and give the lad in charge without further delay.

But the senior partner was a kind old man. He took a more humane view of the situation.

"You, my son," he said gently, "let us always remember that we began in a small way, too!"

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick "headaches," biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and, foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Toxicous matter collected in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.
