The Bible is the basis of all moral law and the foundations of all creeds, as well as secret societies The church is not alone in teach ing Bible truths, for many societies do not have a degree of work with-out the reading or exemplification of Bible study.

"The church" is applied to both edifice and membership, and too A third game will be played at often the edifice becomes the God of its members. The word "church" promises to be a hot contest. implies Christlanity and it is very evident that there are many more who believe in the essentials of members The tendency of great thinking minds is to leave the clurch as they see the works of God in every law of nature. The botanist gets closer to God botanist gets closer to God with plant life. The chemist can realize Herman Reynolds, a the supreme power in chemical affinity. The zoologist gets next to creation in the study of animal to creation in the study of animal nome with a nature of vaccination life, for they are next to man if some time ago, where he remained creation and formation Like only over night, was again arrested Darwin, sometimes a zoologist or study of nature that he forgets to grandfather. look up higher to the Creator, but is all absorbed in the created.

But none could live or would Co. influence in the community. It acts on society like the governors on an engine. The moral prestige as well as the moral teachings make every community better where there is a church. The lowest condition man has reached does not separate him from his creator. At netime and somewhere the dark veil of a dissipated life blows to one side and opens the view of the pure. the noble, the Godliness of things around just outside of a wicked

The church in all considerations has lost some of its prestige owing to the exciting and rapidity of events, but never does the original foundation of the great Christian brotherhood totter or fall. Christianity is inseparable from the human mind.

Did you ever stop to think that the outside world judges a town mostly by its local newspaper? In the eyes of the stranger it has only such business places as are repre-sented in the advertising columns. Imagine yourself a stranger, look the Enterprise through and form your opinion of Farmington. The town isn't as large as you would think for, is it? If you have a business and it is not represented here, you are not doing your duty to the town.

Have you studied that new road map, and decided to vote for the bonding of the county? What objection do find? We would be pleased to give space to both pro and con arguments on the bonding

Have you told your congressman what you think on the subject of national preparedness? He don't want to hear from you, of course, but it would be just as well to let him hear just the same.

Why not have Eastern time of Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Central time on Tuesdays. Thursdays and Saturdays and sun time on Sundays.
