THE HOME MERCHANT

"And remember also that a good word can be said for the old reliable home merchant. He is the chap who gives you credit when you need it, and carries your account until you are able to pay. He is right there to give you back your money or make exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought. He is the fellow who keeps on his shelves, right near your home, goods and wares to meet the needs of the community. He pays taxes to support the town, to maintain the schools, pave the streets, aids churches and charitable organizations in a thousand ways, and in the welfare and upbuilding of the whole community. The real home merchant is your neighbor and your friend and helper, and if you will get close enough to him you will find he has many troubles and that his profits are no greater on the amount invested than your own."

"We take no exception to the statement that the farmer has a right to buy where his money will go the farthest, but in sizing up the situation, don't forget to follow the dollar in its rounds, and be very, very sure before you decide the longest way round for your dollar is the nearest way for it to get back home and to your own pocket."—Grant H. Slocum in the Gleaner and Business Farmer.

Out of the Race

When one wakes with a stiff back, pains in muscles, aches in joints, or rheumatic twinges, he cannot do his best. If you feel out of the race, tired, languid, or have symptoms of kidney trouble, act promptly. Foley Kidney Pills help the kidney get rid of poisonous waste matter that causes trouble. For sale by T. H. McGee.

Everything flooded Monday morning.
Harold Grace spent last Saturday in Redford.

We have a few more county road maps to give out.

Earl Murray spent Sunday with friends in Pontiac.

J. R. Lewis in Pontiac on business last Thursday.

Minnie Deremer visited in Pontiac part of last week.

Something to remember—good sleighing March 23, 1916.

O. E. S. Minstrels to night and tomorrow night. Good program.

Miss Georgia Brady visited a part of last week with friends in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen spent last Thursday with relatives in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Simmons, of Pontiac, were Sunday visitors in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Isaminger visited over Sunday with her mother at Plymouth.

Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain and daughter, Ione, visited in Detroit one day last week.

Ralph Auten, wife and children are spending the week with their parents at Orionville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lanib attended the funeral of Marl Bachelor's baby Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Waite, of Novi, visited one day last week with their daughter, Mrs. Lou Thayer.

Edward Pettibone, of Grand Rapids, visited part of last week with relatives here and at Detroit.

Marks of Sincerity

THE more you know about the way this car is built, the more you will be impressed with its value. As a few examples of our way of doing things, we cite to your attention the fact that all wiring is housed in waterproof, rustless, flexible conduits—junction boxes between the body and the chassis—top pressed steel housing for the speedometer driving gears—the three-piece steel body—the deep section frame—the suspension of the springs beneath the frame, so that there is no overhang—the ball and socket joint by which the rear spring is attached to the rear axle—the mounting of the headlights on the front fender apron, so as to make easy adjustment and focus. And so we might go from "stem to stern," pointing out superlatives not generally found in cars of this price. But when it is all boiled down to its simplest terms, you will find the performance of this car the source not only of economy, but of great pleasure on its one-thousandth mile. It might well be called "The 100,000 Mile Car." That's the test. Proofs, not promises. May we send you our catalog, which illustrates many of these interesting features?
