When Greek Meets Greek

Two business men, famous for their names and keenness in the market of trade were wont to meet on the golf links every Saturday afternoon in friendly rivalry. It was known that they did not discuss professional ethics in playing the game, and they watched one another very closely for infractions of the rules. A ball was driven out of bounds, and the driver, after searching for it earnestly, finally gave up and slipped a new ball in his trousers, he cautiously let it drop over by his foot and picked it up quickly with a cry of delight.

"Oh, here it is," he said. "You're a durr!" said his companion merrily. "I've been standing on it for ten minutes."—Harper's Weekly.

A Day Table

Mother made a "day table" for her children by sawing off the legs of a kitchen table more than half-way up, so that the little ones could reach it. Round the table, after it had been painted green, was nailed a green lattice of wood—to keep in the sand—quite four inches deep, and table and ledge alike were lined with zinc. Clean white sand was distributed evenly over the table, and the children happily enjoyed a game of "being at the seaside," bringing their spades and pails and making hideouts and water-ways. On other days the children pretended that the table was a village, or a garden, and planted it with green things and flowers and set a church and farmyard buildings and animals about. The table was a success.

Tennis Suit of Cotton Ratine

Something of a new departure in sports suits appears in the combination of plain and figured ratine. The rough surface of the material lends itself to brilliant colors and broad effects particularly well, and it is used with plain ratine and with other plain materials as well as for decorating one-piece dresses and for making the separate sports coat.

A suit like that in the picture presents a very wide choice of color combinations. The plain skirt may be any one of the several bright colors that appear in the coat, or it may be of gray, tan, or white. The choice of color rests with the wearer, since the collar, belt and cuffs of the coat are made of plain ratine like that in the skirt. The colors shown in fabrics for sports clothes are gay and beautiful and there are yellows, rose shades, greens, and blues that are wonderfully becoming.

There is nothing difficult or intricate about the construction of the suit pictured here. The skirt is plain and moderately full at the hem, with little fullness at the top, and the coat could hardly be more simple. Any of the standard fashion companies have paper patterns very like these garments.

Buttons, important items in the fast of sports coats, are well managed in the suit illustrated. They are a larger size than is ordinarily used and are made of a dark composition. They are set on simulated buttonholes made of flat folds of plain ratine, and only the one on the belt is of practical use as a fastening. Snap fasteners do the actual work of holding the coat front together, and the opening is a little to the left of the center.

White canvas shoes or regular tennis shoes are to be chosen with some reference to the suit and the hat worn in it. Among the most handsome of sports hats are those of ratine trimmed with fruits or conventional figures of the same fabric painted with vibrant colors.

Midsummer Hats for Little Maids

The little miss must be supplied with sunbonnets and sunhats for play during the warm days of midsummer and with something pretty for the times when she is on dress parade. Here are shown three hats, selected because of their good style and preserved because they may be successfully made at home at a considerable saving in cost. These are among the hats that anyone who knows something of sewing may undertake.

All of the hats pictured are made on frames of wire, to be bought ready made. The frame selected is to be covered with a very thin cotton or silk material. The top of the crown is covered with a circular piece cut large enough to extend part way down the side crown, where it is tacked to the wires. Next, a bias strip is cut wide enough to stretch over the under and upper brim and it is sewed to the wire at the base of the crown. Finally a bias strip is smoothed about the side crown, joined at the back and sewed to wires in the frame. This makes a foundation for the lace or braid covering.

The hat at the center, after the frame has been prepared as described, is covered with narrow val lace ruffles. The under brim may be faced with chiffon or crepe in a pale color, fluffed with a fringe of lace at the edge. Beginning at the middle of the back brim the lace ruffles are sewed in a continuous strip about the hat until the center of the top crown is reached. Each ruffle overlaps the preceding one.

Girl's Dancing Frock

For a little girl of modern taste is a dancing school frock, all of bright green pussy willow taffeta, with frills and frills up the skirt almost to the waist line, and a pair of little square-necked bodices fastened to the ruffled skirt by a cording. A glimpse of white tulle drawn up on tiny black velvet ribbon at the round neck and having pretty, short sleeves, goes under the prim little green bodice.

Summer Uses for Velvet

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JUNE 25

REVIEW, SECOND QUARTER.

READING LESSON—Philippians 13-14.

GOLDEN TEXT—Finally, brethren, whatever things are honorable, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.—Phil. 4:8.

The lessons for the past three months extend over a period of about fifteen years, from A. D. 37 or 40 to A. D. 132 or 135. It is the history of an ever expanding church and the ever widening influence of the work which Jesus began and continued to do after his resurrection. Through the Holy Spirit. No adequate or proper review can be conducted without the aid of a map. If none is available, take a large sheet of manila paper and an outline map showing the strategic centers, Jerusalem, Damascus, Antioch and as far west as Philippi, also the country involved, the coast line of the "Great Sea," etc. It is a good idea not to locate the chief cities and have pupils attach to the map small, round, red and white stickers on which might be printed the name of each city. Then other pupils might trace on the map the course of Paul's journey. If all of this work is done in the presence of the entire school it will aid greatly in holding attention as well as placing before the scholars a visible delineation of the lands involved in the portion of sacred history. The most outstanding incidents which have been studied during the past quarter, such as the conversion of Saul, the healing of Aeneas, the raising of Dorcas, Peter's visit to Cornelius, etc., could also be located geographically by means of thumb tacks with tags attached. A most interesting review would be to organize in the school a number of travel clubs. Let each club choose a place to give a "travelogue," or travel talk, describing some of the chief events, such as the Damascus journey, a journey to Joppa, to Cyprus, to Antioch from Antioch to Jerusalem, etc. Let the pupils write out their accounts and as each is written have some scholar indicate on the map the places involved, and others hang up a plain sheet of the entire school a piece of cardboard bearing a single sentence indicative of the leading lesson of the event described. This latter will mean to use a sentence or parts of sentences as, "We are men of like passions as you." The element of contest could be employed by having all the pupils in a given department bring such sentences relating to the lessons on cards and let that scholar who can bring the greatest number of sentences be declared the winner. The teacher must of course help materially in such a contest by direct suggestion and by encouraging the pupils to undertake the task before them.

For the adult and older 'teen age classes it might be well to assign to different scholars a number of great problems which have been treated in the lessons of the quarter, and let each come to the class prepared to read a brief essay or to discuss the subject assigned, relating it of course to the work of the quarter. (Lesson I) "How the Holy Spirit converts men today." (Lesson V) "How can the church be aroused to the great work of missions." (Lesson VIII) "The Perils of Popularity." (Lesson XII) "The conditions of salvation" and so on. Another interesting plan would be to have different members of the class prepare at home a brief synopsis of the chief characters of the quarter's lessons.

Such a use of charts is valuable in that it appeals to the eye, is a real test of knowledge and helps to systematize our information for future use.

The facts of the quarter are about as follows:

Lesson I. The Risen Christ by his overwhelming glory conquers his bitter enemy, Saul.

Lesson II. Men are healed and the dead raised by the power of the Risen Christ.

Lesson III. Peter, the Jew, is prepared and Cornelius, the Gentile, is called to a common confession.

Lesson IV. Jew and Gentile alike receive the gospel and are sealed by the Holy Spirit.

Lesson V. The Risen Christ by his angel delivers his servant, Peter.

Lesson VI. The Holy Spirit calls Barnabas and Saul to a world ministry.

Lesson VII. The preaching of Christ causes separation.

Lesson VIII. The Power of the Risen Christ heals the lame and revives Paul.

Lesson IX. Christ, who nullified the Jewish law, removes its burden.

Lesson X. Lydia's open-hearted response to the gospel.

Lesson XI. The temperance lesson shows our relations to others in the Kingdom.

Lesson XII. The Ever Present Christ delivers his servants and converts and saves the sin-hardened jailer.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Annoying Freckles.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription of this remarkable skin-cream is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of this—double strength—freckle-cream, and apply a little of it night and morning, and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength skin-cream as this will insure your getting money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Modesty Line Changes.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison is of the opinion that some of the accepted present-day styles of feminine dress have passed "beyond the bounds of modesty." Perhaps so, but these dress critics seem to ignore the fact that the modesty line changes with the fashions.

Bumper Grain Crops

Good Markets—High Prices

Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winners of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid crops, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.
