THE NOMINATIONS

Now that both conventions are over the national campaign begins, with the prospect of a "horse race" from start to finish. Both the Nominations (Hughes by the Republicans and Wilson by the Democrats) were unanimous.

The nomination of Charles Evans Hughes literally brings forth the realization of the dream of years, "that the office seek the man," instead of the man the office.

As was the case with President Wilson in the free silver split of the Democratic party, Mr. Hughes is free from the Roosevelt split of 1912 in the Republican ranks, is free from all political entanglements is prominent in church circles, having been the originator of the New York bible class of the Baptist church in that city, later taken in hand by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., one of the largest organizations of its kind in the world, and is apical candidate.

President Wilson is the strongest candidate of his party, and will command a greater following than in 1912. He has successfully, in the opinion of many Republicans, as well as his own party, carried the nation through one of the most trying periods in its history. With the wielder of the "big stick" in support of Hughes, as present indications point, there will be "something doing" every minute from now until November 7th, and will undoubtedly bring out one of the largest popular votes the United States has ever witnessed.

Every voter in this country would do well to study the situation, to men and make their decision independent of party affiliations when they cast their ballot next fall.

Cheese Is Not Indigestible.

The United States Department of Agriculture, through the Department of Nutrition Investigation, has made an extensive study of the food value, thoroughness of digestibility, ease of digestion, physiological effect and special character of cheese as food, as well as methods which are followed in preparing it for the table.

Cheese, it was found, is of importance to the housekeeper because of its high nutritive value, particularly its high percentage of protein, or muscle forming materials, because of its appetizing flavor and the great variety of ways in which it can be served.

Combined with crackers, bread or other cereal foods and with fruit of some kind, it makes a well balanced meal. CHEESE ALONE WITH WATER PROVIDES A DIET ON WHICH A MAN, SO EXPERTS SAY, MAY THRIVE INDIFFERENTLY. It furnished a large amount of nutritious food in about the most compact and convenient form possible. For this reason it has been made a principal item in the soldiers' rations and has played an important part in solving the problem of feeding the armies of Europe.

Exports of cheese from this country have increased enormously since the war started. For the year 1915 they reached the amount of $3,227,000 pounds, as against 3,797,000 pounds in 1914 and 4,400,000 pounds in 1913. During the first five months of the current year exports have continued about on the same heavy scale as in 1915.

Mrs. Alice Axford, a prominent Oxford lady, aged 56 years, died at Harper hospital last week of peritonitis, where she had been taken for an operation.

Wixom will celebrate the fourth. Auto mobile parade, sports and ball game will be the day's features. David Gage, of Northville, will deliver an old-fashioned oration.

His Backache Gone

Just how dangerous a backache, sore muscles, aching joints or rheumatic pains may be is sometimes realized only when, life in surance is refused on account of kidney trouble. Joseph C. Wall of Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months." Take Foley Kidney Pills for weak lame back and weary sleepless nights. The fact that Mr. Winter is president of the Summer Homes company at Orion no doubt will attract many people to that pretty resort after the "heated term" sets in. At any rate, lots of 'em go there—Ex.

There were 35,316 marriage licenses issued in Michigan during the year 1914, and 4,385 divorces granted. In Oakland county there were 383 licenses issued and 38 divorces granted. On January 1, 1915 there were 20,199 divorces pending in the state. There were 6,637 new cases commenced in 1914.

Mrs. Laura Beall, Plattsburg, Miss., writes: "Last April I got in bad health; my left side hurt all the time. I had symptoms of Bright's disease. I took Foley Kidney Pills and feel all right now. They quickly relieve backache, rheumatic aches and pains. Bladder troubles, too, are corrected by this remedy. For sale by T. H. McGee.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employees for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matter in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposals of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:
1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railroads, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all those affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employees are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.
The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.
Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.
The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employees, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employees, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employees, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.
