Torsecutor for the regular momina tion is meeting with a cordial reception all along the field, and despite the fact that the field is completed of good runners. It is conceeded that Glenn, with his experience as assistant, and uniform satisfaction with the public, will have the pole throughout the race. Over here in Orion the name of Mr. Gillesgie is about the only one we hear mentioned.—Orion Review, August 4, 1916.

It had been my intention to make a personal canvass of the Republican voters of Oakland County in conducting my campaign for the nomination on the Republican ticket for Prosecuting Attorney, and I expect to follow this course as far as possible. Owing to the fact that I have been asked by the City Commission to act as City Attorney for the next two weeks during the absence of Mr. Bromley, I.will be unable to make as complete a canvass of the county as I had

From the experience gained during the fix years that rrom the experience games during sue its years that I acted as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, Lam fully aware of the heavy duties and responsibilities connected, with the prosecutor's office. Should I receive the nomination and election I promise the voters of the county to give the prople a fair and business-like administration of the office and a strict enforcement of all the laws without any regard to class or faction.

If I receive the nomination I expect to make my campaign as the nominee of the Republican party, and not as the nominee of any particular faction or element of that

Arraignments and prosecutions will be made promptly and unnecessary expense will be avoided.
