A goodly number of Farmington folk were enjoying the new walks about this Sunday.

The campaign to make Michigan "dry" is now on in earnest. The Michigan Home Rule League is opposed to prohibition and is advocating the adoption of a smaller unit than the county local option, and has already begun using considerable space in the Enterprise. The "drys" also have space in this issue. Don't fail to read both, and remember they are both paid advertisements—not in any way or expressed opinion in the matter.

Owing to the increase in the price of paper a good many newspapers have raised their subscription rates. The Enterprise does not intend to take that step, not right away, at least, but it will help some if those who are in arrears or whose subscription is about expired will come across. The date to which your subscription is paid will be found on the name label.

WARNING!

Do You Want Your
Dry County
Kept Dry?
If so, Kill the Liquor
Forces Home
Rule Act

The liquor forces of Michigan are on defensive.

TEN YEARS OF ACTIVE CAMPAIGNING IN THIS STATE HAVE GIVEN THE DRY FORCES THE FIRST AND SECOND LINE OF TRENCHES IN THE SALOON'S LINE OF DEFENSE.

The fight of the liquor forces to hold their third, and last remaining line of trenches is desperate in the extreme.

Furious fighting is now going on in every section of this commonwealth.

The liquor forces within ten years have lost the following strongholds.

Alcona, Allegan, Antrim, Baraga, Barry, Berrien, Benzie, Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Charlevoix, Clare, Clinton, Eaton, Emmett, Genesee, Gladwin, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Ingham, Ionia, Iron, Isabella, Kalamazoo, Kalkaska, Leapeer, Leelanau, Livingston, Mason, Mecosta, Midland, Missaukee, Montcalm, Newaygo, Oakland, Oceana, Oshtemo, Oscoda, Roscommon, Sanilac, Shiawassee, St. Joseph, Tuscola, Van Buren, Washtenaw.

Gradually the power of liquor has crumbled in Michigan until the saloon forces see a dry state unless some move can be made to divert the issue and place the dry forces on the defensive.

The fear of the saloon forces is that Michigan will go dry at the November election. They have even Washington making a useless state. They have watched with anxious eyes the weakening of their position in the nation. Oregon followed Washington and then coming Idaho, Arizona, North Carolina, Kansas, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Iowa, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

The saloon forces see the doom of their business in the nation unless desperate well devised means can save the day.

They propose to save their cause in Michigan by demanding Home Rule. This new device, if put into effect, will overcome much of the work already accomplished by the friends of the dry movement in this state.

Home Rule in this instance means that each township within each county in the state can say whether or not it wishes to license saloons within its borders.

Home Rule means substituting township control for county control. It means, if carried, that the county will no longer be the unit, but instead the township.

Under such a system counties would be divided against themselves. They would be half dry and half saloon.

If you wish to defeat this movement, which will be placed before you for consideration at the polls in November, Commence today. NOW, to rally your friends against this new device to render your county wet in spots.

If you would give your support to the dry movement, if you would concentrate your effort to hold the ground already gained, prepare NOW to deal the Home Rule device of the Liquor Forces a deadly blow.

Forty-five counties in Michigan are already without saloons. Not a licensed drinking place is to be found in any one of these counties. Not a township within the borders of any one of these forty-five counties has the right to issue a saloon license.

But the Liquor Forces propose to undo this work. They propose, if possible, to substitute township option for county option by giving each township, instead of each county, the right to say whether or not saloons shall be licensed.

At the election in November you will be called on to vote for state-wide prohibition.

This is the one great issue in this cause of driving the saloon from Michigan. But the Liquor Forces have placed another issue before the people for consideration at the November election. This issue is their so-called Home Rule act. Home Rule sounds well. It is a device, which in ordinary times is best calculated to catch the approval of citizenship.

In this case, however, it is the new 16-inch gun with which the Liquor Forces hope to sink the county option plan full of holes.

Already the saloon forces are spending large sums of money to place their pet Home Rule act before the people.

Friends of a dry Michigan must not be deceived by this device of the enemy. All supporters of local option and a dry Michigan must see that the full meaning of Home Rule, as applied to liquor in this state, is explained. Here is the way this Home Rule feature will be placed before you on election day.

Commence NOW to see that no one is deceived by the fine phrase Home Rule, which means, if carried, a county divided against itself a county half wet and half dry.

If you wish to hold the ground already gained, vote against this Home Rule feature. It was inaugurated by the saloon forces in this state and is designed solely to undo the work already accomplished towards removing the saloons as an economic and social issue in this state.

Michigan is going dry in November if every voter does his full duty.

Study these two ballots and vote on both November 7th, if you wish to place this commonwealth in the column of other saloonless states.
