MESSAGE OF WILSON

PRESIDENT DELIVERS & SHORT JOINT SESSION.

Measures of His Program of Settle-ment and Regulation—Other Legis-lation That is Advised.

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Wil-on's message, delivered to congress a joint session today, was brief and o the point. The president said:

Gendemen of the Congress:
In fulfilling at this time the duty laid upon me by the Constitution of communicating to you from time to time information of the state of the older than the control of the state of of the control of the state of the control of the state of the state to these matters of more general pulthe policy with which it seems necessary and feasible to deal at the prescott session of the congress.

I realize the limitations of time under which you will necessarily not at this session and shall make my suggestions as few as possible, but there were some things left undone at the last session which there will now be time to complete and which it seems necessary in the interest of the public to do at once.

In the first place, it seems to me imperatively necessary that the earliest possible coisideration and action should be necorded the remaiging measures of the program of settlement and regulation which I had occasion to recommend to pout at the close of your last session in view of the publie dangers disclosed by the unaccommodited difficulties which then existed, and which still unhappity continue to exist, between the rathroads of the country and their locomotive engineers, coductors, and trainmen.

Railway Troubles First.

I then recommended:
First, immediate provision for the enlargement and indministrative reoriguitzation of the interstate commerce commission along the lines embodied in the bill recently passed by the house of representatives and now awaiting action by the senate; in order that the commission may be enabled to deal with the many great and various duties now devolving upon it with a prompt-neas and thoroughness which are, with its present constitution and means of action, practically impossible.

Second, the establishment of an eight-hour day as the legal basis allow a creatively engaged in the work of operatively the properties of the comments of the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the engaged and the control of the articular engaged in the work of operating the engaged and the control of the engaged a Fifth, ag amendment of the caleting federal factorie which provides for the including of such controversien as the present of an including of the controversien as the present in the control of the control of the control of the control of the provides did not now provided for should call, a full public investigation of the merits of every such dispute shall be dissiftuted and completed before a strike or lockout may lawfully be attempted. Renews His Recommendations.

The second and third of these recommendations the congress immediately acted on: it established the eighthour day as the legal basis of work and wages in train service and it authorized the appointment of a commission to observe and report upon the practical results, deeming these the measures most immediately needed; but it postponed action upon the other

The country cannot and should not tonsent to remain any loager exposed to profound industrial disturbances for lack of, additional neaps of arbitration and conciliation which the cougress can easily and promptly supply.
And all will agree that there must be to doubt as to the power of the executree to make immediate and undirezrapped use of the railroads for the cocurrent of the military forces of the Tation wherever they are needed.

This is a program of regulation, preention and administrative efficiency

I would hestate the recommend, and I dure say the congress would hestate to act upon the suggestion should I tanke it, that any man in any occupation should be obliged by law to conjunce I an employment which he desired to lettre. To pass a law which forbade or prevented the individual workman to leave his work before receiving the approval of society in doing so would be to adopt a new principle into our jurisprudence which I take it for granted we are not prepared to introduce. But the proposal that the operation of the railways of the concerted action of the control of the concerted action of the control of the control of the concerted action of a tissue plan for the judgment of the opinion of the nation is not to propose any such principle. It is based upon the very different principle that the concerted action of powerful bodies of men shall not be permitted to stop the industrial processes of the nation, at any such principle. The fourth research and the search of the considered for them of the pround referred to its indisputably clear and a recommendation by the congress with regard to such a matter might seem to draw in question the scope of the commission's authority or its inclination to do justice when there is no reason to doubt either.

Porto Rico's Needs.

The argument for the proposed amendments of the organic law of frorto Rico is brief and come to the Control Rico is people are not just. We have created expectations of extended privilege which we have not satisfied. There is unenstaces among the people of the Island and even a suspicious doubt with regard to our intentities concerning them which the adoption of the pending mensure would impuly remove. We do not doubt what we wish to do in any essential particular. We ought to do it at once.

There are other matters already advanced to the stage of conference be-

There are other matters already advanced to the stage of conference between the two houses of which it is not necessary that I should speak. Some practicable basis of agreement concerning them will no doubt be found and action leads is, gentlemen, probably the hast occasion I shall have to address the Sitty-fourth congress, I hope that you will permit me to say with what senuine pleasure and satisfaction I have co-operated with you in the many measures of constructive policy with which good have enriched the ligislative annals of the country. It has been a privilege to labor in such company. I take the liberty of congratulating you upon the completion of a record of rure serviceableness and distinction.
