Short Courses Start At OCC

The Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College will offer several short courses of general community interest beginning this week.

Prentice Ryan, director of community services, said the non-credit classes range from five to 10 weeks and registration fees are $5 to $30. Registration will be accepted Sept. 12 and 13 at the college at Orchard Lake Rd. and I-696, Farmington Hills.

Interested persons can still register for classes which began Monday and Tuesday of this week by attending the next class session or contacting the college.

"Stimulants" will be taught by Mrs. Sharon Keim for 10 weeks giving students an opportunity to learn about visual poise and posture as well as diet and exercise. It meets Tuesdays, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in the north mezzanine of "M" building.

Also in the field of body control is a class in "Kudalini Yoga," where Mark Singh, formerly a student of master Yogi Bhajan in Los Angeles, will teach students yoga methods.

He will also emphasize bringing control of the senses and awareness to the consciousness through meditation, relaxation and projection. It begins tonight (Wednesday) from 8 to 10 p.m. in Birmingham Westchester Elementary School gym, 3003 Maple.

"Introduction to Astrology" began Monday but will meet for nine more sessions. Jacqui Kimler teaches the concepts and terms used in astrology including the symbols, planets, sign houses elements and qualities used in the natal horoscope. It meets at 7:30 p.m. in "M" building mezzanine.

Dr. J. Harold Ellens, Farmington minister and pastor of University Hills Church, teaches "Human Relations" on Mondays from 8:15 to 10 p.m. in Birmingham Seaholm High School, 2436 W. Lincoln. He will discuss the dynamic processes which function in persons, families, institutions and the community at large.

Judy Lee Wiser, director of the Southfield Ballet Company, will teach beginning and intermediate ballet classes for six weeks beginning tonight (Wednesday), at 7 p.m. It will meet in Room J-306.

Participants in a "Mind Development" course will learn to express individuality through the use of the subconscious mind and energy levels.

the class which began Tuesday but will continue for nine weeks at 8 p.m. in Room E-101 in Birmingham Seaholm High School.

Students will explore the questions of "Who Am I?" and "Who are You?" through a course entitled "Search for Identity" taught by Peggy Cratch on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The class begins Sept. 13 and runs for nine weeks.

"How to Spring the Time Trap" runs for five weeks when students will learn how to get one or two more hours a day to do things important to them.

Dr. Donald Starr teaches the class beginning tonight (Wednesday) from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room A-204 of the campus.

Dr. Starr will also teach a course entitled "The Boss - Secretary Team in Office Time Management" which will help the manager's section, gain more free time during the day to do important business.

It will help secretaries identify "time wasters" and learn to adjust their schedule to avoid them. It began Tuesday and will continue for five weeks from 3 to 6 p.m. in Room A-203 of the campus.

Al Velasco, former Detroit parks and recreation Games champion, will teach "Beginning Chess" on Wednesdays, beginning tonight at 7 p.m. in Room A-204 of the campus. A second session will begin Nov. 7.

Students will learn the basics of shaping, sanding and polishing semi-precious stones into cabachons for jewelry in a "Lapidary" course.

Two six-week sessions will be taught by Richard Gruetz, proprietor of Natures Studio Lapidary Gift Gallery. Lectures began Monday for the first session and Nov. 5 for the second session. Students will have a choice of Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday lab sessions which will be held in Gruetz's home in West Bloomfield.

William Walter, member of Video Feedback in Troy, teaches a class on "Alternative Media Production"

THERE'S A NEW DAY COMIN', WE'LL BE WAITIN' THERE FOR YOU.

The new day is FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, and every Friday after that when your hometown newspaper will be delivered to your doorstep Friday afternoon instead of Saturday.

This exciting change is designed to give you, our readers, a headstart on weekend shopping specials, community activities, and local leisure time events for the whole family.

It's also a change for the better for local merchants. They'll have a chance to let you know what kinds of weekend-bargains they have planned for you... so you can plan your weekend shopping better.

A Friday edition will also be delivered in Westland and Garden City for the first time giving readers in these two cities a hometown newspaper TWICE each week and giving our advertisers a chance to expand their weekend coverage.

WE'RE GLAD THERE'S A NEW DAY COMING! WE KNOW YOU WILL BE, TOO.
