Religion Update

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's

An anti-abortion amendment to the U.S. Constitution has been introduced by the unlikely twosome of Sen. James Buckley (Conservative - N.Y.) and Mark O. Hatfield, Oregon's usually liberal Republican senior senator.

This proposed amendment, co-sponsored by Sens. Hughes of Iowa, Bennett of Utah, Curtis of Nebraska and Bartlett of Oklahoma, was promptly denounced by Notre Dame law professor and anti-abortion leader Charles Rice, as being "fatally ambiguous, because it avoids the clear cut term 'moment of conception' ... Instead, it opens the door to the morning - after pill ..."

The proposed Buckley - Hatfield Amendment specifies that "Unborn offspring at every stage of their development" are "human beings" as well as "persons," as the term person is mentioned in the fifth and 14th Amendments.

Even more astounding than this proposal to bestow U.S. citizenship upon all American embryos is the amendment's provision whereby this very same citizenship - in - utero may be arbitrarily (and even temporarily) canceled:

"This Article shall not apply in an emergency (undefined) when a reasonable medical certainty (How can a certainty be unreasonable?) exists that continuation of the pregnancy will cause the death (instantaneous? eventual? probable suicide?) of the mother."

That this proposed amendment is not only ambiguous but a pinnacle of absurdity as well as clearly demonstrated at the Southern Baptist Convention in Portland, by Sen. Hatfield in person.

The attractive and generally intelligent senator was asked during a press conference about the attempt of one young Pennsylvanian to run for the state legislature - by petitioning a court to declare him eligible under the age requirement - on grounds that he had been conceived in time. (Hatfield: "I never thought about that.")

Would the senator be willing to introduce legislation providing tax exemption for all "unborn children" - and requiring their mothers to procure - extra - passports while pregnant and abroad? (Hatfield: "No.")

Hatfield, a devout Baptist, has become a regular speaker - sometimes preacher - at church conventions, and even at Mayor Richard Daley's prayer breakfast in Chicago.

He was, therefore, asked just how one of these embryonic citizens can be baptized if it is too tiny to determine its sex - or even to be seen with the naked eye?

Hatfield: "I'm from a tradition that doesn't practice infant baptism."

This thigh-slapper - from a senator who presumably expects to be taken seriously on the very serious issue of abortion - got a lot of laughs.)

From a more serious vantage point than Oregon's funny senior senator, the Jesuit magazine America, as well as the Catholic - edited magazine Commonweal, have both taken a very dim view of supporting either this Buckley - Hatfield amendment, or total prohibition amendments offered by Maryland Congressman Lawrence Hogan and North Carolina Sen. Jesse Helms.
