Dr. Scully Is Professor

FARMINGTON
Farmington resident Dr. Marilyn J. Scully, 27600 Nine Mile Road, is a new member of the Mercy College of Detroit psychology faculty. Together with her husband Roger, who is a gerontologist, Dr. Scully co-hosts a "Speak Out" program.

She is president of the Oakland County Psychological Association, executive board member of the Michigan Psychological Association, and a member of the American Psychological Association.

School Board Time Changes

FARMINGTON
Farmington's next board of education meeting will be held 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 19 instead of Tuesday, Nov. 20.

REHEARSING for the first concert for the new Farmington Community Orchestra are David Harrison and Ruth Daniels. The group will share a program with the Farmington Community Band at the first concert of the season, Nov. 20. (Evert photo)

Portus Murder Trial Is Set

FARMINGTON
Charles Portus, 17, will stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court for the first degree murder of Keith Minelli, 7.

Keith was found slain in a field behind his home July 21. Portus, who lived in the same neighborhood with his father at 3936 Clairview, was arrested shortly afterwards.

Both the defense and prosecuting attorneys requested a mental competency hearing for Portus during his arraignment. Portus was remanded back to district court with an order he was competent to stand trial.

District Judge Michael Hand heard the examination, which began a week ago and was finished at 8 p.m. Friday.

No date for the trial has been set.

Book Fair At Dunkel

FARMINGTON
A paperback book fair will be held at Dunkel Junior High School during National Book Week, Nov. 12-16. Students will have an opportunity to purchase books, furnished by the Educational Reading Service, during the school day.

Proceeds will be designated for supplementary book purchases for various departments of the school.

Car Driven By Miss Shaw

LIVONIA
An Observer story in Wednesday's editions concerning an automobile accident in which two Livonia teachers were killed contained an error.

The story reported that Candice Mikula, a Riley Junior High teacher, was the driver of the car involved in the accident. The car was driven by Connie Shaw, the other teacher killed in the accident.

Heidt Joins Urban College

FARMINGTON
Nancy Heidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heidt, 25749 Farmington Rd., Farmington, is among the first Michigan State University students to join the newly established College of Urban Development.

The first kind of its kind in the U.S., the new 17th MSU college offers a wide range of courses emphasizing problems of urban living and racial and ethnic studies.

Artists Club Holds Sale

FARMINGTON
An annual fall exhibit and sale sponsored by the Farmington Artist Club is scheduled for Nov. 16-18 at the new facilities of the Farmington Public Library located on 12 Mile Road.

Unframed and framed art in a wide variety of styles and techniques will be exhibited. Unframed original art will be on sale for under $25.

Visitors to the free exhibit will be asked to vote for their favorite work, and a raffle of six framed original paintings will be held on Sunday.
