Shortcuts Used In Remodeling

If you're anxious to remodel the basement into a recreation room, you won't want to drag out the job any longer than necessary.

Jobs that formerly seemed to take forever to finish, such as installation of flooring and wall paneling, now are not all that time-consuming.

Most home improvement products on the market today are designed with you in mind -- the do-it-yourselfer -- products that can be installed with relative ease.

Probably one of the fastest and most economical ways to install a sink-equipped bar area and powder room is to locate the facilities on opposite sides of a two-way plumbing wall. This takes advantage of common water supply.

The wall will also pay off as a spacesaver in a small basement.

For a good looking, yet practical decor, you'll want to select wall materials that are easy to install and maintain.

Prefinished hardboard paneling comes in easy-to-handle 16-inch by eight-foot planks, only one-third the width of standard panels.
