SOUTHFIELD Praying mantis eggs have hatched into a "Rebel Reat Birney Junior High in Southfield.

"Rebel Resort" is one of the names given the outdoor laboratory at Birney, a student beautification project partly financed by the sale of praying mantis eggs.

The money-making project was used because it is believed the mantis eats aphids and other plant destroying bugs, which would help the residential gardener while Birney beautifying the grounds.

The project was started four years ago with the student council pledging to raise $3,000. Students from Law-rence Institute of Technology prepared the design, neigh-
