Pine Cone

Birds Adorn

Yule Tree

Here's a "crafty" Christmas decoration, a golden bird made from pine cones.

Use a medium-sized pine cone for the body. Notice the cone's scales are arranged in rings.

For the neck, wrap half a cottonball around a toothpick and wedge it firmly into the scales between the third and fourth bottom set of rings. Take any spiny ball, like that from a sweetgum tree, and push it onto the toothpick for the head.

For the eyes, push two small berries into the head with pins. Then center two small scales below the eyes, (top one slanting up and lower one slanting down) for the beak.

Break three scales from a large pine cone. Wedge two tightly on either side for wings and one in back for the tail.

Bird can be spray painted with gold or silver paint with glitter sprinkled on the wet paint. Or, it can be painted with a wood finish for a natural look.

For hanging the decoration, attach a string to the neck or to the top of the scales on the body.
