Ski Heil

By BILL CAMERON

Don't panic! We will ski this winter.

It's just a question of keeping our composure and planning ahead. Getting to ski country is no problem, it's the return trip that has everyone uptight. Let's try to attack the problem with a little logic.

If gas stations close at 9 p.m. on Saturday locally, on a voluntary basis, the President has requested, I have the feeling the gas stations will remain open. Most of their business relies on weekend ski traffic.

It's very possible therefore, that they may be open from noon to 9 p.m. on Sunday. Of course, that doesn't solve the problem when you get near Bay City or Flint and find your gas tank on empty.

I suspect that there will be stations open along the major arteries. As it is they are supposed to close until midnight on Sunday. Most of us can then ski right up until the lifts close, have a leisurely dinner along the way and pull into a gas station after midnight and still be home around 1 a.m.

If we're fortunate in owning a small economy car then we can make the trip home on a tank of gas. If we have an understanding employer, we can stay overnight Sunday and be a few hours late to work on Monday morning.

We can ski locally; we can take a ski week anywhere in the country; we can ski Canada or Europe; the point of it all is to remain optimistic. Of course, if we don't get snow soon all this discussion will remain academic. One of my ski buddies, Barb Boye, just returned from Aspen and said conditions were poor, only 19" on top and plenty of rocks showing. I'm heading for the Canadian Rockies this week and hoping that conditions are better. Before further north they should have plenty of snow.

Those of you who ski Caberfae and are fans of Bob Meyer, popular ski school director the past 10 years, who has accepted the position of Director of Skiing at Crystal Mountain Lodge in Thompsonville where he will head up all outside ski programs, racing, special events, and also marking activities.

He already has booked all of the Region III Senior Alpine Races at Crystal and has three high school teams training daily.

Congratulations Bob, Crystal can't help but prosper with a guy like you on the staff.
