Zoning gets council ok

FARMINGTON — Rezoning for an $8 million apartment-cluster complex on 48 acres at the southeast corner of Drake and Lytle Rds. was granted by the Farmington Hills Council Monday.

The zoning was changed from single-family residential to a combination of multiple and single-family.

The development by Standard Construction Co., will include more than 300 units of apartments bordered on two sides by "cluster houses," according to the developers.

The council narrowly approved a second rezoning for a convenience shopping center to serve the Gateway apartments, on the south side of 12 Mile Rd. west of Middle Belt. The change, from residential to "B-1" business, was opposed by William Ortmann, Margaret Schaeffer, and Keith Deacon.

Approval for a third request for a rezoning to light industry for a parcel at 24505 Halstead Rd. was passed unanimously.

AUTO FACTS
by Bill Miller
In cold winters thank goodness for the heating systems in cars. Your car keeps you warm during winter driving by a coolant mixture. This mixture is heated by the engine, flows through the heater and back to the cooling system through special hoses. A blower forces air through ducts to outlets in the passenger compartment. Two outlets inside and below the windshield shoot warm air streams against the glass when you need to remove ice or clear a fogged windshield.

Good car care begins at MILLER'S SOUTH-FIELD AUTO PARTS.
