

Children observe Brotherhood Week

By SHIRLEE IDEN
In observance of Brotherhood Week, two nursery school classes had an exchange day on Tuesday, Feb. 19.

Children from the First Missionary Baptist Day care in Inkster Center visited with nursery school classes at Shaarey Zedek in Southfield.

Mrs. Tanya Clanton Boyle, director of the Baptist Day Care Center said the theme of leadership was emphasized in her classes.

Mrs. Boyle contacted officials in Israel to arrange for her youngsters to plant seedlings in Israel.

"It is gratifying to know that each child at First Missionary Day Care Center will receive a certificate stating that they planted a seedling during Tu-B' shevat the Israeli version of Arbor Day," Mrs. Boyle said.

In addition to planting the trees, the Baptist Center youngsters planted lima beans in small milk cartons to bring to the Shaarey Zedek youngsters.

The children visited for an entire morning in the various classes and exchanged gifts of plants.

MRS. ROSALIND Gilson, director of Shaarey Zedek's Beth Haved Nursery School, said she provided books about the Tu B'Shevat holiday to Mrs. Boyle so the children could learn about the Jewish religion and about the holiday of the trees.

About 20 visitors came to Shaarey Zedek by bus.

Highlight of the morning was sharing of snack time. "It was a very special experience for my children to share a day with children of another creed," Mrs. Boyle said.

Health center offers classes for parents

A third series of expectant parents classes is being offered by the Oakland County Health Department and will begin on Monday, March 11, Tuesday, March 12, and Wednesday, March 13, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Classes are taught at the South Oakland Health Center 27725 Greenfield Road, Southfield. Registration by calling the health department at 557-1400, education department.

THE CLASSES, taught by public health nurses, are co-sponsored by the Oakland County Medical Society and various adult education departments throughout the county.

Topics include the mental health of the family unit, growth and development of the baby before and immediately after birth, labor and delivery, and care and feeding of the infant.

Films and other audio-visual aids are used to illustrate some of the topics and each class is taken on a tour of a hospital. Classes are limited to 13 couples.

Sr. Aurelia joins Providence staff

Sister Aurelia has joined the staff of Providence Hospital this month as associate director of the Pastoral Care Department.

Born and reared in Milwaukee, Sister Aurelia earned her bachelor of science degree in nursing at Marillac College in St. Louis and a master's degree from the University of Detroit.

Her career has included assignments in surgical nursing at Hotel Dieu Hospital in New Orleans; as nursing supervisor and director of hospital director at St. Thomas Hospital, Nashville, and hospital education director at St. Joseph Hospital, Chicago.

She comes to Southfield after 2 1/2 years as director of hospital education at Providence in Mobile, Alabama.

While studying for her master's degree in religious education at U of D, Sister Aurelia resided at the St. Vincent-Sarah Fisher Home for Children in Farmington.

For relaxation, she enjoys arts and crafts. She also plays the piano and organ.

The goal of the Pastoral Care Department is to meet the spiritual needs of Providence patients of all denominations.

To accomplish this, Sister Aurelia said the staff hopes to work more closely with clergymen of other faiths to help them become familiar with the hospital and its procedures.

"We aren't here just to talk religion," she said. "We have time to really listen, and this is often what people need the most."

She explained that during illness an individual "is faced with himself as a different person. Values change from a sick bed," and a hospital must care for the total person, including physical, emotional and spiritual life.

Another emphasis of the department will be directed toward hospital employees, who are invited to visit in the Pastoral Care Department.
