

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

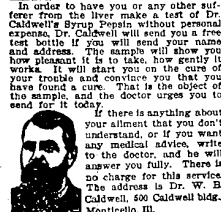

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms can not be mistaken. If the white of the eyes becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great liver laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a tonic, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juices, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 619 B. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Fincham, Jackson, Ky., says "I was one of thousands of families kept in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative."

In order to have you or any other suffer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense. Dr. Caldwell will send you a test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works. It will start you on the cure of your liver and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the test bottle, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 400 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

WHERE THE FACTORY ROARS.

Much as I loathe the factory system, it scores in some respects above socialism. In factories, at any rate, women meet with their kind and have intercourse with many varieties of human nature. But, chained up in sculleries and kitchens, with tether just long enough to reach the stocking to be mended and no longer, their lives as a bare and starved as the pickled bone that they put in the pot. —London Woman Worker.

INTERESTED IN PRISONS.

The Maine Federation of Women's clubs discussed the subject of prison reform in one of the recent meetings. It was declared that the physical condition should be improved before the task of improving the moral was undertaken. In the Illinois clubwomen's report it seems that the creature comforts are all that they should be.

WOMAN MAKES A FOOL OF MAN.

"From Bazan and Odysseus down," says Prof. Thomas in his rather caustic "disquisition" about women, "history and story recognize the ease and frequency with which a woman makes a fool of a man." He goes on to say that woman was once man's best of friends, and now she controls him, and that he is an "easy mark to her machinations."

If a man with three drinks of whisky under his belt cannot walk without reeling, can a barrel filled with freewater be blamed for rolling from the curb into the gutter?

If the barrel in its mad career chases and runs over a child, can the owner of the barrel and the whiskey be held liable for injuries to the child on the ground that he was negligent?

In one case at least Judge W. G. Cady in municipal court, says "No." An account was brought by Margaret Flanagan, who is some ten years old, by her mother, as guardian, against Oswald Weinreb, the owner of the barrel.

It was claimed that the barrel was left in such a position that when the little girl passed it took after her.

Mr. Weinreb, who appeared by Attorneys Ferguson & Hennessy, denied that the rampage of the barrel was his fault. He also denied having given authority to have any one place the barrel in the street. The decision by Judge Cady is for Mr. Weinreb, who is given cost.—Syracuse Standard.

GLASS TELEGRAPH POLES.

In Grosselmerode, a town near Cassel, Germany, a factory has recently been established for the manufacture of glass telegraph and telephone poles. The glass runs of which the poles are made is strengthened by interlacing and intertwining with strong wire threads. One of the principal advantages of these poles, it is said, would be their use in tropical countries, where wooden poles are soon destroyed by the ravages of insects, and where climatical influences are ruinous to wood.

A BIG PUBLIC TELESCOPE.

The only genuinely public observatory in the world is at Zurich, Switzerland. It is open every evening to the public, and during the last six months was visited by no fewer than 26,000 people. The telescope, which is mounted in an entirely new and ingenious way, is 17 feet six inches long and weighs 14 tons. Its object glass is 12 inches in diameter. Attached to the instrument is a projecting screen upon which objects in the heavens are thrown for the benefit of those waiting to get a peep through the telescope itself.—Popular Mechanics.

WHAT IT WAS.

She was visiting a Chinese restaurant for the first time, and had ordered among other things an omelet. After sampling the excellent chop suey and the appetizing chow mein, she turned her attention to what seemed a dish of pancakes. Praising over the combination of ham, onion and other ingredients, she suddenly exclaimed to her companion: "Why, there's egg in this." "Sure; it's the omelet," he replied.
