NFHS takes city track crown

Busy summer for Falcon star

By KEN SCHIFF

North Farmington High School won the track championship of Farmington for the second year in a row last Tuesday by defeating Farmington High and Harrison High in a tri-meet at Harrison.

The Raiders won nine out of 15 first places with the Falcons getting six. Harrison didn't take any firsts although the Hawks scored 20 points, North Farmington won with 80 points and Farmington had 56.

"They just have a lot of good, solid trackmen," said Farmington coach Gerald Young.

Farmington's Bruce Taylor, a distance runner whose leg injury was supposed to keep him out for the rest of the season, came back and won the two-mile in 10:25.9.

"The doctor gave him the go for Bruce to run, so we let him try," Young said. "It was just an average time, but good enough to win. None of the times were that good because of the weather, we ran in the rain for about the tenth time this year."

IN FARMINGTON'S Inter-Lakes League meet on May 22, the Falcons finished third with 77 points, eight behind Pontiac Northern and rather far behind Livonia Stevenson, which won the meet with a total of 118 points.

"The kids did a good job," Young said. "There was a lot of improvement in their times. I'm pretty happy, I thought we'd be lucky to score 60 points and we got 77, only eight behind Northern."

Mike McGuire set a new conference record in the two-mile during the meet.

The track season is over for the rest of the team, but not for McGuire. The senior distance star will be participating in more than one post season tournament.

"He'll most likely be going to the All-America track meet in Chicago," Young said. "There is a Golden West Invitational in Sacramento, California, that he might be invited to, depending on how good of a time he runs in the state final (held Saturday) and there's a National Junior AAU tournament in Florida that he could possibly go to, that one is for all the best trackmen under 20 years old in the country. If he goes there, he'll run against the Russians on June 28."

One post-season meet Mike is most likely to attend is the tri-state meet in Ft. Wayne, Ind. headed this year by his own coach.

"It's going to be a heckuva meet," Young said. "I'm the head selector. It will be three teams with the top 40 kids from each state - Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Several area kids will probably be down there and there'll be TV and the whole works."

"We're going to run every event except the discus, because Michigan doesn't have that event. We're the only state in the country that doesn't throw it. Every year we (high school coaches) propose it but it always gets voted down, they won't budge."

"They (Michigan High School Athletic Association) feel its unsafe. People have been killed by a discus, you can get hurt, but all the other states and the colleges have it. It gives the shot putter another event to compete in."

Most of the opposition to the discus has come from places like Grand Rapids and Detroit where they just don't have the area, Young said.

Joseph Cotton, president of the MHSAA and athletic director for the Farmington school district, is one of the few MHSAA officials who support allowing the discus in Michigan, according to Young.

This year's Rex Cauley Award, given annually to the outstanding trackman, at Farmington High, undoubtedly will go to McGuire for the second year in a row. Cauley was a hurdler at Farmington High during the late 1960s, the best hurdler in Michigan's history, an Olympic star in 1964 and was named "hurdler of the decade" for the 1960s.

Falcons foil WL Central, 4-3

Farmington foiled Walled Lake Central, 4-3, in Inter Lakes League baseball action last week.

Falcon coach Richard Roy said, "The main reason we won was some darn good clutch hitting."

Roy had his ace hurler, Dave Dueto pitching. Dueto went the distance for Farmington. He gave up two walks, five hits and he fanned seven batters.

Nick Yaeger, pitched for Walled Lake Central. He struck out seven, gave up five walks and eight hits in taking the loss.

Farmington launched its scoring attack in the third inning. Dueto singled, Bob Holter followed with a single, then Fable second, Mitch Thomas laced a single to left which scored Dueto and Holter.

Walled Lake Central got one run in the fourth in-fair. Paul Imhoff scored on a fielder's choice by Freedman. George Freedman, of Walled Lake Central hit a homerun in the sixth inning.

In the Falcons' part of the sixth inning, Dan Perry scored on a Mitch Thomas single.

Farmington-Waterford

Farmington's High downed Waterford, 5-2, last Thursday to finish second place overall in the Inter-Lakes League.

"I'm pleased," said Farmington tennis coach Hal Beardsley. "We had a rough time getting started but the kids have rebounded. We needed the win today to finish second."

Local horseman regular winner at Hazel Park

How do you make money at the race track?

It's simple, according to Bob Kalish, the prominent Southfield sportsman who owns one of the most successful stables in Michigan harness racing. His horses, trained and driven by Tom Merriman are running again at Hazel Park Raceway. The season will run through June 25.

Kalish explained what it takes to make money at the race track: "You need a good driver-trainer, a good vet, a good partner, good stock and money. I have the best. Tom Merriman is my driver-trainer. Dr. Mike Hall is my vet. My wife, Fanny, is my partner. This is a great team."

Kalish added one more requirement: "You need luck, and a lot of it. Put them together and you have a great team."
