Polozker top rider in dressage events

Oakland County rdiers held the upper hand in the lhree-day dressage phase of the 35th annual Defroit. Horse Show at the Bloomfield Hills Open Hint Club, and in many cases it was the whomen who took home the blue ribbons rather than the men. Dressage is regarded by many as the highest art of horsemanship. It demonstrates the bability of a horse to perform with precision natural gaits and movements under control of the rider as close to perfection as possible.

In a good dressage ride, the horse and rider are as one, and queen of the show as the combination of 17-year-old Naiey Polozier of Bloomfield Hills and her essential mare. Fair Screenade.

Serenade.
Miss Polozker, who also had three younger issters in the competition, was graduated from Detroit County Day school earlier this month and celebrated by capturing the three foremost dressage events, all aboard Fair Serenade.
