WEST BLOOMFIELD-FARMINGTON AREA LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
Box 157, Orchard Lake, Michigan 48033
The statement appearing on page 2 of the Voter Guide of the League of Women Voters following the name of Joseph Levin, candidate for U.S. Congress, 17th District, "Did not reply to questionnaire" was an error. The league has been informed that although a questionnaire was mailed by certified mail to Mr. Levin, he did not in fact receive it. Mr. Levin has told the league that had he received it, he would have responded. The league regrets the error which was unintentional and not the fault of the league.

Listen to the man who listens to the people!

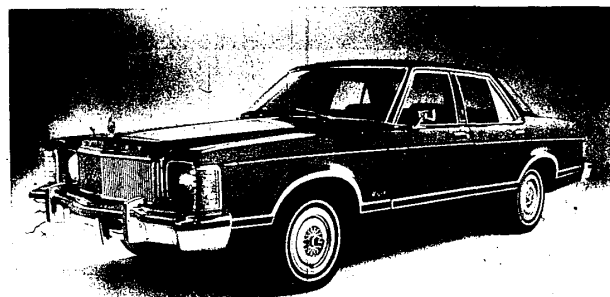

"I BELIEVE A STATE REPRESENTATIVE SHOULD LISTEN, THEN ACT."

Bill Ortmann

It's time we returned government to the hands of the people. State government must be made more responsive to our daily needs. More laws affecting our daily lives are passed in Lansing than in Washington, D.C.

Ortmann, a nominee for Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court in 1972 was one of two candidates to say that abortion was murder. Ortmann's strong opposition to cross-district busing has been vindicated by recent Supreme Court decision. Ortmann has proven his ability to find answers to problems. He has the experience, the concern, the straight-forwardness you are looking for in a legislator. Ortmann is prepared for the job and is more able to handle State problems than any other candidate.

Mercury Monarch

The recently introduced 1975 Mercury Monarch is built on 109.9 inch wheelbase and is offered in four models—two and four-door sedans in two series: Monarch and the top-of-the-line Monarch Ghia. The Monarch European look is comple-

Ford names promotions

Three appointments were recently announced by the executive director of North American Public Relations for the Ford Motor Co.

Richard W. Judy of Birmingham was named public relations manager of the Ford division.

Roland Williams of Farmington Hills was named manager of the Washington, D. C. public relations office.

David W. Krupp of Birmingham was named manager of the Cleveland public relations office.

Judy earned a bachelor of science degree in journalism from the University of Illinois in 1951. He joined Ford in 1955 as publications editor for the Mercury division.

Williams joined Ford as employee publications editor for the Automatic Transmission Division in Livonia in 1955.

Krupp joined Ford's public relations office in 1960 and served as editor of the dealer publications before becoming special publications editor in 1969.
