Nonored at EMU

Helene Houzoujian, 25092 Lynncastle Lane, Farmington, will receive an Eastern Michigan University Residence Hall Scholarship for high academic standing. Purpose of the scholarship, recently originated by the EMU Housing Office, is to recognize and reward the academic success of students living in residence halls. Requirements are that applicants are juniors or seniors, have a 3.0 grade average or better, and live in a residence hall.

Herbert promoted to city director

WESTLAND—Kent Herbert of Livonia was promoted to Westland's first budget director-controller by Mayor Eugene McKinney this week.

Herbert, 25, of 9911 Westmore, served as chief accountant in the city's finance department for 2.5 years and fills a new position created in the new city budget for the new fiscal year.

He is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and Michigan State University where he received a degree in financial administration.

McKinney said that he is "confident Herbert has the credentials and work experience to handle this important position. I'm proud we have people on our staff who can move up to positions of greater importance and responsibility."

"For several months, Herbert handled the finance department operations including the recent budget while we were interviewing finance director candidates."

"He showed me he has the ability to do the job," Herbert will be paid $14,700 a year.

Fair livestock prizes jump

Top winners in the Michigan State Fair (Aug. 22-Sept. 2) livestock judging are expected to split an additional $25,000 this year.

An expected 20 per cent increase in premium prizes for the four judging classifications, livestock, horse, poultry and youth exhibit, was announced by Robert McLachlan, supervisor of the Fair's agriculture and livestock exhibits.

McLachlan said a total of $195,000 will be awarded in the four judging classifications.

"The $195,000 is the record amount for us," McLachlan said, "and we expect that the additional premium money will attract more exhibitors than last year."

Deadline for entering the judging competition in the four categories is Aug. 1, McLachlan said.

Entry information may be obtained by writing the Michigan State Fair Entry Office, Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward at State Fair Ave., Detroit 48203.
