Mollie Parnis suggests a cape for day (Photographed by Art Emonoy)

Parnis fashions sparkle

There were capes by day and beaded designs by night in the Mollie Parnis collection shown at Saks Fifth Avenue, Troy, last week.

Parnis turns to the suited look for fall, opting for soft sweater ensembles in subtle shades or mixing fabrics for a new suit feeling. Softly tied blouses appear over skirts or pants.

One collection design swung a cape over a swirly skirt and belted top.

Parnis' nighttime look is mainly one of beads and sparkle. On some pieces, the tough of glitter dots lace while on others it is a total fabric cover-up. A streak of black races over a white background, winding around the bodice and dipping from waistline to hemline on one nighttime number. The entire design, complete with an over-size accent flower, is created with beading.

More subtle are chiffon sleeves woven with a spider web of sparkle.

Nuggets from the Golden Corridor

There will also be daily demonstrations and repair services in caning, splint-seat weaving, rushing, antique doll repairs, leaded glass, cut-glass and crystal repairs. It's a super show... don't miss it.

Another gem we offer this month, is a One-Man show (and sale) of recent work by Tom Bert, Photographer. The dates are September 16-28 for this exciting exhibit.
