

WELCOME

"It takes a heap 'o living' to make a house a home," was what Michigan poet Edgar Guest called it. But sometimes that heap o' livin' causes a need for a facelift or at least some sprucing. Several local families have done this to make their homes say to their guests, "Welcome. We do a heap o' livin' here and want you to be a part of it, too."

Contemporary facelifting did the trick

A winding walk beckons all comers

A charming white picket fence welcomes

An interesting roof line adds new dimension to an older home
