

Friends of St. Marys

FRIENDS OF ST. MARY HOSPITAL are completing plans for a fall fashion show Thursday, Oct. 3, in Raleigh House, 25300 Telegraph, Southfield. Funds raised will be used by the organization to finance a recovery room for out-patient surgery in the Livonia hospital.

Fashions will be by Bonwit Teller and jewelry by Charles Warren. A social hour at 11:30 a.m. will begin the event, with luncheon served at 12:30 p.m. Tickets, priced at $10, may be reserved by calling Mrs. Betty Masten at the hospital.

Fair aids orchestra

The Women's Organization for the Scandinavian Symphony has announced plans for its annual Christmas Fair.

This year's fair is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 17 at the YWCA, Grand River at Beech-Daly Road, Detroit.

Principal attraction of the fair will be a great variety of Scandinavian imports for sale.

Luncheon fare consisting of home-made Scandinavian open-faced sandwiches will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Gaily decorated booths will feature handwork, baked goods, attic treasures, jewelry and mystery packages for sale.

The fair provides many enticements for early holiday shopping.

Proceeds of the event, the primary fund raising activity of the year, provide financial support for the orchestra.

For further information call Mrs. Quolehan, chairperson, at 861-8909 or Mrs. Roffaello, co-chairperson, at 644-7574.

Red Cross Telamarathon is under way

Red Cross volunteers are alerting local groups and individuals by telephone to the need for persons to join the Red Cross volunteer team.

The "Telamarathon" recruitment campaign will continue until November with the goal being to recruit 800 volunteers. Local organizations will be asked to set up speaking engagements during the campaign.

"These engagements will be used to present the needs and programs of Red Cross to interested groups, and to publicize the opportunity for community service through Red Cross," says Mrs. Joseph Magadino of Redford, chairman of Red Cross volunteers in the northwest area.

Other campaign leaders include Mrs. John Parrott of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland chairman of volunteer training, and Mrs. William Kall of Garden City, northwest area transportation driver.

Red Cross has developed the team concept which enables members of clubs and groups to work together on activities within the Red Cross program.

Individuals interested in volunteering will be encouraged to attend an orientation session in the Red Cross Northwest office in Livonia.

Wives to give carillon

Suburban area members of the Wayne State (WSU) Faculty Wives Club have begun a letter-writing campaign to solicit funds for a new carillon at the university.

Directed to faculty wives and other friends and supporters of the university, the campaign seeks to raise $7,500 for the project.

The letter-writing session followed a kick-off coffee at which honorary chairwoman Mrs. Ruth Gullen, wife of WSU President George Gullen, hosted 42 members of the club's general solicitation committee.

The carillon will commemorate the organization's 50th anniversary this spring.

The project was chosen to give WSU a tangible symbol of the faculty wives' involvement with the institution.

The carillon will sound from the Student Center Building, replacing the time-worn chimes first given to the university in the mid-1940s.

Local women involved in the campaign include: Mrs. Donald Jaffar, Mrs. J. Nagwekar, Mrs. Albert Stahl, Mrs. John Childs and Mrs. Louis Friedland, all of Southfield.

Others are Mrs. David Boltz of Farmington and Mrs. Howard Hess of Franklin.
