

*The power of the printed word.
Since Gutenberg first invented the press,
words in print have been sacred.
They have influenced human thought and action immeasurably.*

*Your right to think and to act depends upon the printed word, upon freedom of information.
Nothing safeguards that right more surely than a free and fearless press.
Nothing affects that right more totally than a grassroots community newspaper... protecting your right to know...
promoting your freedom to live.*
