AIP candidate urges morality

FARMINGTON HILLS—Bruce Duke, 52, is the American Independent Party candidate for the 17th Congressional District.

Duke will face Republican Kenneth Callaghan and Democrat William Brodhead in the general election this Nov. 5. The congressional post has long been held by retiring congressman Martha Griffiths.

The AIP candidate has lived in Farmington Hills about 20 years; is the owner of Bruce Duke Contracting and is a real estate agent. He and his wife, Margaret, have four children.

Duke was educated in the Detroit Public School System. He is a member of the John Birch Society, the Masonic Order and church organizations.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for school board in Farmington. The major issue today, Duke said, is morality.

"THE POLITICIANS are leaning over backwards in the name of freedom of speech and individual freedom," Duke said. "They are allowing the murder of the unborn and the flooding of the nation with the filth of pornography."

The second major issue, he said, is inflation. He said inflation is caused by deficit spending and by the overproduction of "paper money" that is flooding the market and devaluing the dollar.

"They (the politicians) know what causes inflation, but they address themselves to the results: wages and price controls," Duke said.

The third major issue is foreign aid, he said.

"Every year, because of the lack of printed information in the news media, it isn't pointed out the amount that goes out through the military and other agencies. We'd have a tremendous surplus if we didn't give this money away," he said.

AS FOR BUSING, Duke said that the 1968 civil rights law specifically prohibits cross-district busing.

"If it wasn't for the cover-up by the attorneys and the news media this would have automatically been thrown out of court," Duke said, in commenting on the busing decision. Crime, he said, is being allowed to grow by judges and prosecutors and probation officers who want to see the criminal back out on the street.

This leads to more crime and more laws being created, he said, and this

Square dance

SOUTHFIELD—The Eisenhower Elementary School PTA will hold a square dance at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 1, in the school gymnasium at 24500 Larkins, off Beech Road, between Nine and Ten mile roads, Southfield.

Admission is $3.25 per couple. Tickets are available at the door and the school. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds will be used for the school's nature study center.

BRUCE DUKE

in turn leads to the creation of more laws.

The increasing number of laws, he said, will eventually lead to socialism and, ultimately, a dictatorship.

He blamed this problem, and many of the other world problems, on "the conspiracy powers" or the communists.

"Their power is tremendous wealth," he said. "Their power is owning the newspapers and everything else."

Duke said Nelson Rockefeller was among those involved in the conspiracy.

If elected, Duke said he would work to fight this conspiracy and try to expose it.
