By TOM BAER
The Detroit St. Martin de Porres-Southfield Christian game had to be the mismatch of the Royal Oak Kimball Class D district basketball tournament.

De Porres, a strong contender for the Class D title, smothered Christian 71-25 last Thursday. Coach Bruce Calderwood's Christian team finished its second season of varsity competition with a 5-16 record.

De Porres, which raced to a 25-10 halftime lead and coasted for the rest of the game, was led by Anthony Fuller's 17 points. Fuller made eight field goals and one of three foul shots—all in the first half.

Albert Meyer and Derrick Owens added 15 and 10 points respectively for coach Ed Rachal's de Porres team, which advanced to the district finals against Detroit East Catholic. The victory was De Porres' 18th in 21 games.

Eric Larson, a 6-6 junior guard, led Christian with eight points and 12 rebounds. Gary Spruill and Tom Marks each scored six points for the losers. Christian made only seven field goals.

"(De Porres) were so intimidating," Calderwood said. "Graham Nash is a 70 per cent free-throw shooter, but he missed the rim on one shot."

A lot of people suggested that we slow down the ball. But obviously you can't slow down the ball with a team like that unless you have the personnel. If you have the personnel, then you don't have to slow down the ball."

"I went with our normal game plan. I knew it would be a situation where our kids would be nervous and intimidated, so anything we could do that would be repetitions and familiar would help us."

Christian graduates just one player—Spruill, a guard—so Calderwood expects to improve his record next season.

"We hope to be at least .500 next season," he said. "This summer our boys will be required to work on isometrics for the arms and upper body, and isometrics for the lower body. I want to increase their physical strength. We'll keep the gym open all summer and look for a few scrimmages with other teams like us."
