

Auto nostalgia

THEN AND NOW—this picture of the 1925 Detroit Auto Show contrasts with the popular, glittery 1975 Detroit Auto Show being held now through Jan. 19 at Cobo Hall. The 50-year old photograph was presented to the show's general manager by a member of the '25 show committee.

Helmbrecht heads new Michigan day

Tuesday of Michigan Week this year will be designated World Trade Day to celebrate Michigan's role as the leading export state in the union. Chairman of World Trade Day is Richard Helmbrecht, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce. Beginning this year, Tuesday of Michigan Week becomes an open day with statewide designation changing each year.

Heritage Day, which previously had been celebrated the Tuesday of Michigan Week, has been moved to Sunday to be combined with Spiritual Foundations Day. Heritage Day will now include religious heritage as well as contributions from the Michigan past in cultural, economic, historical and various other areas. Michigan Week will be celebrated from May 17 to May 24 this year.

COMFORTABLE!

Every-day comfort. It's impossible to achieve in time of sadness, but we do our best — through home-like facilities and neighborly concern — to put families as much at ease as the circumstances allow.

New adult classes listed

Almost any adult will find something of interest in the new adult learning catalogue which lists more than 100 courses offered cooperatively by the University of Michigan Extension Service and Wayne State University College of Life Long Learning. Some of the more unusual courses offered are built around such topics as: Comic art, penguins, political philosophy, rapid reading, endurance conditioning, Greek mythology, energy policy, suicide and dying, psychology, edible wild plants and the history of the Irish.

Classes meet in facilities of both universities in Detroit, Ann Arbor, Dearborn, Mt. Clemens and Southfield. Most classes meet one evening each week for 10 weeks, with some of different length or times. The penguin course, for example, meets at the Detroit Zoo. Registrations are being accepted now for classes beginning the last week of January and later. Most courses start the week of Feb. 3. All courses in the adult learning program are non-credit offerings available to any adult. It is not necessary for students to apply for admission to either university.

Previous educational background is usually not important, and the typical class is composed of persons whose last year of formal schooling ranges from high school to advanced graduate work. Age also varies. Tuition fees average about $35, depending on the length of the course.
