"TEMPLETON" by Strahan. Old stencil motifs, popular in Early New England homes, were the inspiration for this popular design. The use of the pineapple motif, symbolizing hospitality dates the original stencil to the late 1700's.

Templeton is one of twenty-nine new wallcoverings from the Texstran collection by Thomas Strahan Company. The entire collection is strippable, scrubable and stain resistant. There are correlated fabrics with many of the wallcoverings.

The Texstran Collection as well as hundreds of other designs, are presented in full sample rolls at our Birmingham Showroom. Stop in and visit us soon.
