

Dance line members include, at top, Kelly Dwyer and Donna Piewa, both from Farmington Hills, and bottom, Lynn Lombardi from West Bloomfield and Jackie Sulek from Southfield.

Girls receive dance award

A 19-member dance line of 8 to 11-year-olds who study in Redford has won the Dance Masters' first place award for precision dancing.

The youngsters study under Sheryl Sulek, a Southfield resident who has had winning chorus lines come from her studio for the past six years.

"This was the first year we've had a competition for the pre-junior (8-11 year old) groups and as I saw them (the youngsters) progress, I was afraid we were all getting over confident and that was going to defeat us," she said.

"But I just knew they were going to walk away with it and they did. They outscored all of the senior, junior and pre-junior groups in the entire competition."

DANCE MASTERS of Michigan, Inc. works toward upgrading the profession of the dance teacher with certifications granted to those who adhere to standards set by the national association.

Competitions in various areas for students are held annually.

The youngsters who study at

Sheryl's Dance Studio on Six Mile Road in Redford took their first place award with a dance called "Hootenanny," which "calls for high precision in tap but has a little acrobatics to it to give it a little spice," Mrs. Sulek said.

ALONG WITH a trophy and the title, the young dancers won a chance to go into national competition but were defaulted because of their average age.

"Dance Masters provides workshops for the students along with the national competition," Mrs. Sulek explained, "and my students were just too young to cope with what would be asked of them."

"But they are already talking about next year. They are sure they'll win again next year some of them are suggesting money-making projects so we can hire a bus to Washington D.C. where the nationals will be held a year from now."

Almost simultaneously with the state award, the dance line members went into another competition and won an audition that will put them on the bill with headliner Donald O'Connor when he appears on the Cheesecake Showboat this summer. The young dance line is scheduled to appear there on Friday, July 18.

Of that event, Mrs. Sulek said, "That name didn't mean much to the kids but the mothers are sure excited about it."

THEY WILL also be appearing in a talent show in Lowell this summer and will give several shows in the band shell at the Michigan State Fair in September.

The youngsters come from all parts of Wayne and Oakland Counties.

Garden clubs name slate

The 44th annual meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan was held recently in Southfield. Mrs. Fred M. Trickey of Bloomfield Hills was director of the meeting, theme of which was "Earth's Beauty - Michigan's Share."

More than 500 members attended the program which included a craft workshop on citrus peel blossoms, entertainment and a champagne reception hosted by Wyandotte Garden Club honoring Mrs. William J. Sullivan, retiring state president.

New officers were elected and Mrs. Trickey was named as a director-at-large. Committee persons named include Mrs. John Lassfield of Farmington Hills, editor of "Thru the Garden Gate;" Mrs. Vernon Vickland of Farmington Hills, garden therapy; Mrs. Richard Frankel of Farmington, landscape design; Mrs. Michael J. Byrne Jr. of West Bloomfield, membership, and Mrs. Harold
