How to have a great family vacation without going too far.

Stay right in your own backyard. Chances are, there are plenty of exciting things to do as a family that aren't that far away. Like as a ramily interest and the visiting a national park. Go fishing. Or camping. Or taking a short trip to the nearest big city or point of interest. And remember. If you're a little short of money for your vacation, see HFC about a Traveloan. You may borrow up to $1500 from Household Finance to pay for your next family vacation. And that'll go a long way. Even if you don't.

English gardens: lesson in design

CRAWLEY, ENGLAND: This suburban city out of London is very interesting as it was planned from rural land in 1947. It is a model community with 12 residential centers, each with its own shopping complex within walking distance for the shopper.

There is a center where all recertaional facilities have been built. Excellent train facilities are available for those working in London but there are many industries

Seminar on films delayed

If a film seminar has been wildly successful two summers in a row, but the timing is off the third summer, the obvious solution is to change dates. That's exactly what "Focal Point III" has done. Instead of beginning in June, when the successful two-week production program in still photography, videotape and filmmaking will now run Aug. 18 through Aug. 30 at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Sponsored by Cranbrook Educational Community, the National Association of Media Educators
(NAME) and Detroit Area Film Teachers (DAFT), the program's focus has been modified to reduce tuition. "Focal Point" will this summer be a media production workshop rolning from 1 to 5 p.m.
daily, with optional evening screenings of short and feature films.

Room and board will not be of-fered this year. Using the graduate art academy's photography stu-dios and media center, partici-pants will learn about film produc-tion by working with professionals in a full production schedule from pre-production scripting to shoot-ing and post-production editing and post-production editing and south work.

"Focal Point" director is Wil-liam Moran, DAFT president and Kingswood School Crambrook dean. Robert Davis, University of Texas film and television depart-ment chairman, will teach super 8 MM filmmaking.

William Walter, commercial free lance videotape producer, ci-nemalographer, photographer and holographer, will teach videotape. Judity Toth, local freelance pho-tographer and teacher, will in-struct 35 MM photography.

For more information or to register call Kingswood School at 645-3400 or write "Focal Point III," Kingswood School Cranbrook, P. O. Box 805, Bloomfield Hills, Mich. 48013.

There was a 24 hour stop at my favorite hotel, The Goring. It was opened in 1810 and boasts that it is the first hotel in the world to have a bathroom in every room. It is a gem of charm catering to the members of Parliament and nontour guests.

tour guests.

Once exposed to this hotel it could always be a home in London with its central location, quiet, beautifully furnished, and a fine dining room.

The purpose of the London stop was to meet with Lady Hamilton at Batternee Park for the delication of the newly constructed model garden for the physically handicaged.

The way to see gardens in England is to secure a directory of the National Trust (42 Queen Annee Cate, London, S. W.l.) for three pounds. Then visit breathtaking gardens on a given schedule all over England.

This visit, I went to Nymans which is near Crawley. It is the estate of Princess Margaret's inlaws and the splendor of the garden sail is difficult to describe except by colored slides. Visiting beautiful parks and gardens is the pattern of life for Sunday recreation for families in England. Of course there is the hamper with hot tea and a sweet for tea time. So you sit on a hill-side or propped against a tree and leisurely sip tea. You do not see papers left behind. The country side is neatly key.
