

Mary Bryant makes aspirin

Mary Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bryant, 33722 Heritage Hills, Farmington, was making aspirin as part of the third annual women in engineering workshop at Michigan Technological University.

The workshop gave 300 high school girls from nine states and Canada a taste of seven engineering fields during its three-week sessions. Miss Bryant will be a senior at Our Lady of Mercy High School in the fall.

Baton twirlers here for contest

If the Founders Festival parade in Farmington looked a little heavy with baton twirlers Saturday it was because a good many of them were here not only to march in the parade, but to take part in competition sponsored by the National Baton Twirling Association.

Twirlers and strutters, hundreds of them, filed in and out of Farmington High School's gym from 8 a.m.-7:30 p.m. wearing spangles and sequins and lame of all colors to vie for trophies in better than a dozen events.

And because it was an official part of the festival, there was no charge to the spectators who watched the show of fancy and military strutting, parade majorettes, and flag twirling some individually, some in groups and some in entire corps performing continuously subject to penalties and limited to time.

It was a fast paced affair run by Ardath Franck, here from Ohio to assist parade chairman Betty Huff who had arranged the competition as part of the festival.

The contestants are consistently "99.5 percent girls," one of the judges told us, and ages, he said, "run from 0-20."

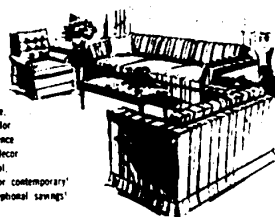

Mrs. Franck, who runs about 25 such contests every year throughout the Midwest, added that there are about 500,000 girls in the United States now in twirling competitions.
