

The Observer Eccentric Farmington Classified

Students discover

Travel was a real learning experience

SUNDAY, JUNE 21, did come final-ly. Last minute packing and work proj-cets made the day pass quickly. Just time left to hug the colle, leave last minute instructions for the friend, who is house and dog sitting, load lug-gage and family into the station wagon—and go. We are cff on a month's adventure.

gage and family into the status wagon—and go. We are off on a month's adventure. First border to cross, our good neighbor to the north. No problem soon we are greeting other members of our party at the Windsor Airport Everyone's passport and luggage are to each. Blatte on enhancement.

neighbor to the north. No proposers, soon we are greeting other members of our party at the Windsor Airport Everyone's passport and luggage are in order. Right on achedule—Nordair Flight. No. Taw wings off toward Montreal John Wesley Solleges—Travel Montreal House and Montreal John Wesley Solleges—Travel Montreal House And I measured the Solleges—Travel Montreal House And I measured the Solleges—Travel Montreal House Montreal House Montreal M BRUSSELS AIRPORT at every one confirming his own sicket to Vienna Three hours to wait and my Belgium money. As one grif said. "I've never carried more, money in my life, and it is not worth a creat, or more accurately, not worth? franch. Also noted, were three softers carrying sub-machine gurn. I'lightened the grip on my children hands. High mone found us on a "Julgariar airline. No more English Smessages.

here. Everything the stewardess spoke remained a mystery to our group. Only one case of air sickness.

Imy son's friend, Mike, and he has perked up. The John Waley College group, consisting of the professor in charge. Dr. Norman Bonner, his wife Gertrude. Joanne Sullivan. Rene Orians, Dan Ellens, Joyce Cherry, Denise Norberg. Terry Conine. Doma Yoelker, my husband Charles, our children of the Sullivan are about to derived Mike Sullivan are about to derived with the sullivan are about to derived a decision of the sullivan and the sullivan and the sullivan are the sullivan and the sullivan and the sullivan are the sullivan and the sulliv

IT WAS A 30Y to get to what would be our home on wheels for a month. Everyone unpacked and settled in the Ungers. Beginning provisions were in each unit. Due to the size of our units, they weren't moved often after once being parked. Walking was back in style. Those responsible for dinner in their unit that evening began looking for a grocery store. What an exper-rience.

rience.

Pooled information comes out like this; take your own grocery bag or buy one, and bag food yourself. Eggs are not refrigerated. Milk is-sold in filmsy plastic gags. American foods, with German instructions, such as Krah spageisti dimer, with no way to understand how to prepare it. Fresh regetables are very darty and not washed as in the U.S.A. Everything it is smaller size containers. The metric system is in action is one this of hamburger enough for six people? And there is the ever present communication problem and money exchange.

Prices were servible As much as

My own family gave me a break Our first night we ale in a Braun Garden That lad its exciting momenta.
Ioo. No onsi could read the menu. Fimally, the children decided probably subsurger was German for hamburger and ordered that. They were rong. It wha a botly spieced noin of flaword meat! Water is not served with meals. and it left us all with hot mouths. A glass of coke costs about 62 ords American equivilent. To all the desired liquid was not available. Most of the shordages here seen to relate to wood on energy problems. Thus paper products and hot water were in short supply.

AT OUR CAMPSITE, but showers were available for a fee. No soap or towels are lumished in the bath-rooms. Something clear that took some adjusting td, was no tolet issue. either: Soon we all took our walks with the necessary papers, soop, and towels in hand and not the slightest blush to our faces. In this what is meant by a liberal education? Excitement had faded to fathgue from the youngest to the oldest. Beds were welcomed. Morning brisupla, more surprises. The the oldest. Beds were welcomed Morning brought more surprises. The public transportation was explained. and writteel instructions given out to insure our return to camp that even own. At the trium station, Charles pur-chased ticklus for the six in our party.

First, one for Andrea, who is 11, and she pushed the button and get on the timm, while the other tickets were being passed out. As the rest of us reached to push the button against—the tram pulled out.

It would be impossible to explain my feelings watching the tram pulled out.

The wold be impossible to explain my feelings watching the tram pulled sout.

She had no Austrian money and spokes of German. The old men at her for a social time, who seemed or gainst so of a social time of the pulled of the social time. The old men at her for a social time of the pulled of the social time, who seemed or gainst so the could be seen the feelings and the sound of the social time. The old men at the feelings are the social time, and the social time of the pulled of the social time of the social time of the pulled of the social time of the social time. The old men at the feeling time of the social time. The old men at the feeling time of the social time. The social time of the social time. The social time of the soci SNUGGLED IN THE most bresstiful of pinces, between Vicena and Salaburg is Matheusen. It was a concentration carry in World War II Study, guides were passed out here It directs the students attention 'not to the stone walls. the fences, the gas chambers, the crematorium, or the picture measurum, rather the critical problem paised is—What is the nature of man that he will build and allow to be built such piaces?"

Nothing prepared us for what we were to see. There were the awful gray, damp, depressing buildings and the wide court where once parked Next Lanks. The rooms had small wooden brids, and primitive tables and chairs, where the rationed food was served. To see the firing squad wall, and picture-ather-picture of actual victures—was all too much One could still feel the pals. hear the mounting, sense the despair SNUGGLED IN THE most beautiful

IN A PEW MINUTES I went on to the last building I was glad I vide last building I was glad I vide I was glad I vide I was reconstructives taken of jour convertients troops liberating the principal and many memorials. This was written on a pace of paper and discovered after the Americans camer —God bleas our Native Land. May heaving protecting hand, Still jourd our shores. May peace her power extend. For be transformed to friend. And Britain's rights depend on war—no more:"

The last building before leaving is a chapel with a memorial terrace and plaques declared to each fasth and from each country who saffered here A chapel has never been more appropriately placed. The staderist would like to to forget today, but they never will, seicher will I—not even will memory will inches will i—not even will seicher will i—not even will seicher will i—not even will inches will i—not even will inches will be wil

Hills man takes wine seriously

By SUSAN AVERILL.

He does not consider humself an exis a charter member of a wine-club which he and a Detroit nop owner friend formed more shop owner friend formed more i four years ago. Then his friend, Frank Lews, er of L and L Wines in Derioti...by. schedn him with the idea of its, Leb said he was interested it of his expresence with white when he was an officer in Germy, with access to an officer's cibbers German wines were frequently 17'S NOT THAT they are mis-ogmists. But they believed that a-terman's presence might derail their attention from a serious appreciation of wine.

"We wanted it to be serious, not an plained. Wine Lesting groups he p become faddish, he said, and as often arranged by wine-shop own, a who lest interested in promoting dip or more of their own wines. Such light Lewis intention, he said.

To gather a group, Lewis and Leib.

"Wines went up like diamonds and gold. Bordeaux is out of the question. The Japanese bought most of the French wines. -- Dr. Alden Leib asked friends who might be interested. Some of the friends brought were steed. Some of the friends brought with the steed of the result was a small congiomerate of men of diverse ages and accupations, few of whom knew each other.

Although they weren limitally homogeneous, they shared a common intergeneous, they shared a common intergeneous, they shared a common interested of the construction of the different states and levels of experience to account for the different states and become congress. Be and it is more done become contrivial after the first few glasses hit the story said the mood does become curvivial
after the first few glasses hit the story which the wines are hought. Wine the cityle inception, causing the club to cut its meeting from once a week to every other Thursday.

"TINE TRAS GONE UP like dismonds and gold Bordeaus is out of the question; the Japanese bought mond of anglod Bordeaus is out of the question; the Japanese bought mont of the French wines."

Consequently, burgundy—though not a rarity—might cost 80, if the connoiseeu wars a superior quality. But the thing about the German wines
the thing about the German wines
the thing about the German wines

The thing about the German wines
the thing about the German wines
the thing about the German wines

The thing about the German wines
the thing about the German wines

The thing about the German wines.

The thing about the German wines

The thing about to eat between each tasting so that the flavor and aftertaste of one wine is not carried into the next. Members rarely agree on their rat-ings, which Lejb said is no cause for concern

