

Fans cheerful, though weather gloomy

A supreme effort

Saturday's game pitted the Raiders against the Thurston Eagles. In spite of the cold rain, passing was the order of the day with Thurston dropping three bombs to defeat North Farmington, 20-0.

Huddling under blankets to fend off driving cold rain at the North Farmington Homecoming are Todd Morell and Kris Murman. Morell is an alumnus who returned to perform with the marching band.

Floats highlighted the Raider halftime taking the edge off the gloom caused by the weather and the score.

Staff photos by Harry Mauthe

Harold Gooding congratulates his daughter, Catty, on being selected as North Farmington Homecoming Queen.

Karen Dargusch, a North Farmington cheerleader, had to wear her knot cap to keep out the cold weather at last weekend's game.