

January date set

Auto show planned

Automobile dealers Jerry Bielfield and Hugh McVeigh have been named co-chairmen of the 1976 Detroit Auto Show.

The co-chairmen have announced the dates of the nine-day event as Jan. 10 through Jan. 18, marking the second consecutive year the auto show will be during January.

McVeigh, a director and secretary of the Detroit Automobile Dealers Association (DADA), is president of Reford Chrysler-Plymouth Inc.

The show will again be in Detroit's Cobo Hall and will feature 1976 model domestic and imported cars in exhibit areas prepared by the automobile manufacturers and manned by DADA members.

While other special events and attractions have not been formalized yet, both Biefield and McVeigh indicated that the Michigan State Lottery will participate in the '76 Detroit Auto Show and that the show's overall

This will be the 60th auto show for Detroit and the DADA. The association, which sponsors the event, is an organization of 259 new car dealers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Biehfield served as chairman and McVeigh as a member of the show's committee last year when a record-breaking 325,025 people, plus approximately 64,000 Ford Motor Co. employees and their families, who attended the show on family tickets paid for by the company, visited Cobo Hall during the nine days of the show and the charity preview.

Classy Formula

Pontiac's Firebird Formula for 1976 takes on a new look when ordered with the new Appearance Package, which includes special stripes and "Formula" lettering. The Formula has a new metal hood with refined hood scoops. The Firebirds, all offered as a two-door hardtop coupe, include the base Firebird, the Esprit, the Formula and the Trans Am.
