Postal office guards buyers

Farmington postmaster Kenneth Harris announced that the week of Feb. 22-28 has been designated Postal Consumer Protection Week by Postmaster General Benjamin Baillet.

The post office safeguards the transportation of mail against mail fraud and false representation and provides assistance with mail order and service problems, Harris said.

Our consumer protection program works through the Inspection Service, Consumer Protection Office of the Law Department, the Judicial Office and the Consumer Advocate, Harris said.

The four departments investigate complaints of mail order scammers when postal customers don't receive merchandise or refunds.
