

Wedding Vows Spoken Twice

Rose Mary Mader and Richard Phillip Sage spoke their wedding vows twice last month in Stuttgart, Germany, on Nov. 14 and in Peace Lutheran Church, Southgate, on Nov. 29. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Erich Mader of Bad Cannstatt, Stuttgart. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Raymond Sage of Wyandotte, both on the staff of the Observer Newspapers.

The Rev. Robert Miller officiated at the consecration of the wedding in this country. For the consecration, the bride wore a white A-line gown with ivory applique trim on bodice, neckline and sleeves.

Bridal Gown Is Velvet And Lace

Nancy Jane Dunkel wore a white velvet gown with ivory lace trim for her marriage to Anthony James Hopp in a Nov. 22 afternoon ceremony in Strathmore Methodist Church, Detroit.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Dunkel of Dogwood Drive, Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hopp of Detroit.

Dr. John W. Parrish officiated and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

The BRIDAL GOWN was fashioned on A-line with the lace trim at the cuffs and neckline. The bride's colonial bouquet was made up of white sweet-heart roses and blue star flowers.

Three attendants wore royal blue velvet A-line dresses with bishop sleeves and ivory lace trim. Their headpieces were cascading velvet bows and they carried colonial bouquets

She also wore her sister's shoulder-length veil and carried a nosegay of white mums and red rosebuds.

Linda Caccaglia of Dearborn was maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless gown of emerald green velvet and carried a nosegay of white mums.

E. Raymond Sage III was best man for his brother, Roger Atholter, his brother-in-law, served as usher.

A reception followed in Spry Hall, Wyandotte. The bridegroom has served with the U.S. Army in Germany and will be stationed next at Fort Lewis, Wash., with orders for service in Vietnam.

of baby mums and blue star flowers.

Linda Caccaglia of Dearborn was maid of honor and the bridemaids were Susan Hopp, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Thomas Cichewicz of Ulick.

WILLIAM MICHAEL HOPP of Detroit assisted his brother as best man. The ushers were David E. Hopp Jr. of St. Clair Shores, Robert Koors of Detroit and Robert McClelland of Farmington.

Mrs. Dunkel chose an aqua coat and dress ensemble with a jeweled collar and Mrs. Hopp's dress was pink silk worsted.

After a reception for 180 guests in the Mayflower Meeting House, the couple left for a honeymoon in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

Both graduates of Michigan State University, they plan to live in Westland.

Conversation Starters

Another name for astrology is "stargazing." Long ago, it was the custom of some countries to call in an astrologer when a baby was born. The astrologer "read the stars," and from them, told the baby's fortune. He told whether the child would grow up to be brave or timid, strong or weak, rich or poor. Astrologers predicted such things as wars and famine too. For centuries, there has been an astrology in the court of almost every king. Astrology is not a science. The stars, scientists agree, have nothing to do with the fortunes of peoples or nations. The astrologers of old predicted many things that never came true. Even now, many people believe in astrology.

Let's Get Organized With Christmas Lists

It's time again to begin compiling lists, shopping lists, Christmas card lists, Things-To-Do-Right-Away lists, even lists of lists. Many women find themselves exhausted before they have even finished writing them.

To make the coming holiday more enjoyable, the Bayer Company has come up with The Intelligent Woman's Guide to Christmas. This plan is based on a little organization and a lot of stick-to-it-iveness.

Christmas cards are first on the agenda. If you started late in November, you can do the cards in easy stages.

If not, start now and try pruning the list. There are always some people on it who are nothing more than the ghosts of Christmas past after all these years.

Write out your shopping list. Group the gifts to be bought according to the men, women and children among family and friends. Then take scissors and cut the list into thirds. Beginning promptly early in December, devote one or two days to the first part of the list. The next week, shop for gifts on the second part, and finally finish up what's left. The theory behind this is that it's easier to cope with one short list at a time than one seemingly endless list.

End your afternoon of shopping early enough to relax at home before beginning dinner preparations.

Do some of your shopping by telephone and mail, using the Christmas catalogs which most large stores send out. You'll save a lot of wear and tear this way.

As to holiday cooking, figure out what you can cook ahead of time and freeze, such as puddings, pies, sweet breads, appetizers. And, of course, cookies can be made ahead in quantity and stored in airtight containers.

When it comes time to decorate the house, don't attempt to do it all yourself. Enlist the aid of the youngsters. You'll be surprised how charming and imaginative their efforts can be. Of such stuff are memories made. As Rachel Field wrote:

"And not a child but keeps some trace Of Christmas secrets in his face."

AAUW Sets Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Purdy of 33607 Colony Park Drive, Farmington, will host a Christmas Open House from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 14, for members and husbands of the Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. George Frost and Mrs. Richard Justice are general chairmen of the open house.

Committee members are Mrs. Donn Dates, Mrs. Thea Lapinski, Mrs. Christine Harris, Mrs. Ordeella Kerckhoff, Miss Mary DeLand, Mrs. Harlem Morris, Mrs. Robert Newhauser, Mrs. Marvin Schaeffer, Mrs. Owen Sudman, Mrs. Franklin Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas Palmer, Mrs. Evangeline Pettibone and Mrs. Walter Krapf.

Ford Wives Ford Singers

The Singout Group of Dearborn will present a musical program titled "Up with People" at the meeting of the Ford Wives Club at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 16, in the Ford Central Office Building.

Daughter Born

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman, 14347 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, announce the birth of a daughter, Suzanne Earleen, on Nov. 21 in Garden City Hospital.

Suzanne weighed nine pounds, four ounces. Her grandmothers are Mrs. Earl Smith of Livonia and Mrs. Julia Hoffman of Plymouth.
