Area Christian Scientists Join Church Annual Meet

Members of Christian Science churches in the Observer area joined some 10,000 others in the denomination during its annual meeting June 3 to 5 in Boston.

"What Can We Do for Our World?" was the theme of meetings and workshops in the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Elected president of the national church was L. Ivimy Gwalter, a Boston resident. A member of the church since 1904, she served 20 years as a director and resigned from that position last year to devote full time to the spiritual healing ministry of Christian Science.

* * *

ATTENDING THE meeting from the First Church of Christ Science, Plymouth, were Richard Moore, Mrs. Lulu Moore, Mrs. Audrey Nieber, Mrs. Mary Arlen, Mrs. Frieda Reh, Mrs. Lois Albert and Mrs. Winifred Albertson.

Main speaker for the meeting was Inman H. Douglass, chairman of the Christian Science Board of directors.

He told the delegates that the power to bring concrete change that characterized the life of Jesus is still available to society.

* * *

"THAT SAME Christ-power is inexhaustibly present today, to be manifested in healing the world's ills just as directly as when Jesus was on earth -- and just as radically," he said in reading the directors' annual message.

The message urged Christian Scientists to turn their attention to the welfare of all mankind. The starting point, Douglass said, is "a commitment to daily devote specific study and prayer to the healing of world problems."

He cited the following statement by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer of Christian Science: "The Church, more than any other institution, at present is the cement of society, and it should be the bulwark of civil and religious liberty" (Miscellaneous Writings).

"Prayer lived," Douglass told the large audience, "demands change."

* * *

INTERNAL PROGRESS on the part of the individual impels outward progress, Douglass said. "And it's the most meaningful, the most effective way to advance orderly social change."

The example of power of the Christ in the life of Jesus offers a "striking challenge to all Christians and to every Christian church, including our own.
